

Quarterly Activities Report Quarter ended June 30, 2013

Padbury Mining Limited (Padbury) is pleased to present its quarterly activities report ended 30 June 2013.

PROJECT UPDATE

Padbury has engaged the services of a contract geologist to undertake further mapping and sampling within its tenements with a view to identifying further drill targets and specifically to prepare the necessary program of works applications emanating from the target identification work. The geologist is currently on site. The potential for the identification of additional resources in the Telecom Hill area is high and mapping/sample extraction is the first stage of the identification process.

During the quarter Padbury has also completed an extensive business plan which provides the blueprint for its future activities.

PADBURY CONTINUES ITS COMMITMENT TO OAKAJEE

The development of a port at Oakajee and its associated rail network is the key to the development of an operating mine for Padbury and other potential miners in the region. As a consequence, Padbury has continued to work diligently with a number of potential mining companies in the region to bring this project to fruition for the benefit of those companies and the Midwest region. OP&R's decision to quit the project has brought some clarity to the project and has enabled Padbury to push the development harder.

Padbury has signed further non-disclosure agreements with potential investors.

PARTICIPATION IN THE ASIAN MINING CONFERENCE BEIJING

During the quarter, Padbury participated in the 7th Asian Mining Congress in Beijing as a presenter, in the two-day exhibition.

In addition to the conference participation, executives of the Company met with numerous parties including potential investors in Beijing.
