2. EXECUTIVE CHAIRPERSON'S LETTER

Dear Shareholder,

It is after much investigative research, diligent and focused hard work, negotiations with potential partners both locally and overseas, the establishment of numerous subsidiary companies each one dedicated to a particular task in building a leading medicinal cannabis and hemp seed food company, and above all establishing a team of renown experts with experience, knowledge, vision and business acumen, that we are most proud and excited to present to you this Prospectus which gives our Shareholders a unique and exclusive opportunity to invest in our newly formed company and share in the profitability both financial and health wise, that our team is continually striving to create.

Shareholders are aware just how much time and effort has been expended up to this point of finally reaching this milestone. We take this opportunity to thank all our Shareholders who overwhelmingly voted in favour of the various deals and acquisitions as outlined in this Prospectus and know that you are as confident in the future of Cann Global Ltd (the new intended name for QBL) as we are, and anxiously await to benefit from the investment that we all in our own way have put into the Company and will continue to do so. We are indeed pleased when an opportunity such as this offer arises aimed at benefitting all of our Shareholders who deserve to be a part of our fast growing success.

We can only thank God for the amazing manifold opportunities that have come our way over the last number of months, for the wonderful people that have joined to build our Company, and for being in the right place and space at the right time. Hard work is a necessity in the business world, but nothing beats hard work combined with good fortune and opportunities, and for that we are most grateful and feel indeed blessed.

Every one of our continually expanding highly professional team is dedicated to give their maximum expertise to make sure that the Company will become a leading world player in the cannabis industry and in whatever other projects our Company is involved in and may undertake in the future.

We aim to be a holding company of top-class Cannabis and other resource projects as the opportunities arise, and as each division develops, we may then consider spinning out a few of the subsidiary companies in their own right, and we hope that our Shareholders will be with us all the way and share the fruits of our labours.

Because this is a limited raising we advise Shareholders who do not want to miss out on this investment opportunity with free attaching Options, to send in Application Forms as soon as possible and to specify the exact amount of Shares requested. We will do our best to fulfil Shareholder requests but obviously on a first come first served basis. The sooner the raising is complete the sooner we can relist as an expanded company with far greater potential. Consideration will also be given to Shareholders holding larger parcels of Shares and who have been with the Company over time.

On behalf of the Board of Directors, I look forward to sharing the success of our vision with all our loyal Shareholders of Queensland Bauxite Limited.

Yours sincerely,

Pnina Feldman
Executive Chairperson

In the event the Conditions are not satisfied then the Company will not proceed with the Offers and will repay all application monies received.

4.8 ASX waivers

ASX Listing Rules 1.1 (Condition 12) and 2.1 (Condition 2)

ASX Listing Rules 2.1 (Condition 2) provides that the issue price or sale price of all the securities for which an entity seeks quotation (except options) must be at least 20 cents in cash.

The Company has received a conditional waiver from the requirements of ASX Listing Rules 1.1 (Condition 12) and 2.1 (Condition 2) to allow the Company to have on issue Options with an exercise price which is less than 20 cents, and to offer Shares under this Prospectus with an issue price which is less than 20 cents.

ASX Listing Rule 1.1 (Condition 11)

ASX Listing Rule 1.1 (Condition 11) provides that if, in the 2 years before the date of the application, the entity acquired a classified asset from a related party of the entity or a promoter, the consideration must have been restricted securities unless the consideration was reimbursement of expenditure incurred in developing the classified asset or under ASX Listing Rule 9.1.3 the entity is not required to apply the restrictions in Appendix 9B to the ASX Listing Rules.

The acquisition of the Company's interest in Medcan constitutes a classified asset as it is an interest in intangible property that is substantially speculative or unproven or has not been profitably exploited for at least 3 years, and entitles the Company to develop, manufacture, market or distribute the property.

Pursuant to the terms of the Medcan Agreement, the Company will be required to pay cash to the Medcan Securityholders to reimburse loans provided to Medcan by Medcan Management in relation to business expenditure.

In certain circumstances where cash consideration is paid to the vendor of a classified asset in the 2-year period prior to making a listing application, ASX may make a decision to deem a vendor a promoter in accordance with the general discretion available to ASX under paragraph (c) of the definition of 'promoter' in ASX Listing Rule 19.12. The Company will seek a conditional waiver from ASX Listing Rule 1.1 (Condition 11) by ASX, on the basis that the cash element of consideration payable to the Medcan Securityholders constitutes reimbursement of expenditure incurred in developing a classified asset.

What are the key dependencies of the Company's business model?	The key factors and dependencies for the Company to meet its objectives are set out in section 7.10.	Section 7.10
D. Key Investment Highlights
What are the key investment highlights?	The Directors are of the view that, subject to completion of the Acquisitions and the Offers, an investment in the Company provides the following non-exhaustive list of key highlights: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • the Acquisitions provide an opportunity for the Company to diversify its business by moving to a vertically integrated model in both of the newly legalised cannabis industries of nutritional hemp and medicinal cannabis, underpinning the Company's vision to participate across the value chain; • the potential increase in market capitalisation of the Company following the Acquisitions and the Offers may lead to access to improved equity capital market opportunities and increased liquidity; and • the cash reserves of the Company will be conserved as the consideration for the Acquisitions is predominantly comprised of Securities (other than the requirement to reimburse loans provided to Medcan by 	Sections 7 and 14.2

Item	Summary	Further information
	Medcan Management, which is a term of the Medcan Agreement – refer to Section 14.2 for further details).
E. Key Risks
What are the key risks of an investment in QBL?	The business, assets and operations of the Company are subject to certain risk factors that have the potential to influence the operating and financial performance of the Company in the future. These risks can impact on the value of an investment in the Securities of the Company. The Board aims to manage these risks by carefully planning its activities and implementing risk control measures. Some of the risks are, however, highly unpredictable and the extent to which it can effectively manage them is limited. Potential investors should be aware that subscribing for Securities in the Company involves a number of risks. The key risk factors of which investors should be aware are set out below. Further industry specific and general risk factors are set out in Section 11 of this Prospectus. The risk factors described in this Investment Overview and Section 11 are not intended to be an exhaustive list of the risk factors to which the Company is exposed. Key risks associated with re-compliance (a) Completion risk: The Company has agreed to acquire 100% of Medcan and MCL, completion of which is subject to the fulfilment of certain conditions. There is a risk that the conditions for completion of the Acquisitions cannot be fulfilled and, in turn, that completion of the Acquisitions does not occur. If the Acquisitions are not completed, the Company will incur costs relating to advisors and other costs without any material benefit being achieved. (b) Re-Quotation of Shares on ASX: Undertaking the Acquisitions constitutes a significant change in the nature and scale of the Company's activities and	Section 11

Item	Summary	Further information
	the Company needs to re-comply with Chapters 1 and 2 of the ASX Listing Rules as if it were seeking admission to the Official List of ASX. There is a risk that the Company may not be able to meet the requirements of the ASX for re-quotation of its Shares on the ASX. Should this occur, the Shares will not be able to be traded on the ASX until such time as those requirements can be met, if at all. Shareholders may be prevented from trading their Shares should the Company be suspended until such time as it does re-comply with the ASX Listing Rules. (c) Dilution Risk: With the Company expected to have approximately 3,333,717,728 Shares on issue at the time of its reinstatement to trading (based on a maximum subscription being achieved under the Capital Raising Offer), existing Shareholders are expected to be diluted by approximately 51.6% on completion of the Acquisitions and the Company's reinstatement to trading. (d) ASX Suspension: The Company's Securities have been suspended from the Official List of ASX since 14 September 2018, being the date of the general meeting held by the Company in connection with the Acquisitions and proposed change to the nature and scale of the Company's activities. As such, there is no market for Shares and the Shares offered pursuant to this Prospectus are highly illiquid. (e) Future Capital Requirements: The Company may require additional funding in the future (whether by way of debt or equity or a combination of both). The ability of the Company to meet this future requirement will be dependent on the Company's continued access to credit markets, funding sources and financing facilities. Access to credit markets on less than favourable terms may impact the Company's access to financing facilities should the need arise and may have a material adverse effect

Item	Summary	Further information
	on the Company's future financial performance and position. Furthermore, any additional equity financing may be dilutive to the Company's existing Shareholders and any debt financing, if available, may involve restrictive covenants, which limit the Company's operations and business strategy. The Company's failure to raise capital if, and when, needed could delay or suspend the Company's business strategy and could have a material adverse effect on the Company's activities and its solvency. (f) Integration Risk: Given that on completion of the Acquisitions, three independent businesses will be brought together to be members of the Company Group, a process will be implemented to align, expand and improve the financial reporting system for the Company Group. While this process takes place, historical deficiencies may be discovered which may have a material impact on the financial position of the Company. Key risks associated with cannabis operations (g) Obtaining and retaining licences, permits and approvals: The Company's business model is reliant on obtaining any necessary additional licences, permits and approvals as outlined in the legal opinion on Medcan and MCL's business operations in Section 8 of this Prospectus and retaining (and in the future applying for renewal of) the necessary licences, permits and approvals issued by the ODC and other regulatory bodies to conduct its cannabis business operations (see Section 7.5). The Company Group will apply for any necessary additional licences, permits and approvals, and undertake the necessary requirements for approval, however, there is no assurance that any such licences, permits or approvals will be granted to the Company Group, or on terms anticipated by the Company Group. A failure to obtain any such

Item	Summary	Further information
	licences, permits or approvals will result in the Company Group being unable to continue to establish and/or further its cannabis related business operations. The Company Group will also endeavour to comply with any approvals or conditions attaching to the relevant licences, permits and approvals, and undertake continued maintenance of such licences and permits. However, there is no guarantee that any licences, permits or approvals granted by the ODC or other regulatory bodies will not be revoked during their term, or that they will be renewed for a further period of time or renewed on terms anticipated by the Company Group. Should any of these circumstances eventuate, it is likely to have a material adverse effect on the Company's proposed activities and operations, as well as its financial performance and prospects. (h) Establishment and implementation of new legislative regime: The Company operates (or intends to operate) in an industry which has recently experienced key regulatory and legislative changes. The legislative amendments to key Australian legislation only came into effect fairly recently (for example, the legislative amendments to the ND Act only came into effect in Australia in October 2016). The ODC has published regulations and a series of guidelines which explain how the reforms are to operate, and the application processes for licences and permits. Although this guidance is quite prescriptive, as with any new legislative regime, there remains some uncertainty as to the interpretation of the new laws and regulations and the review methodology that the ODC will adopt. (i) Change to laws or regulations: The operations and proposed operations of the Company Group are subject to a variety of laws, regulations and guidelines. The industrial hemp and medicinal cannabis industries are evolving globally, including in Australia. It

Item	Summary	Further information
	is likely that governments worldwide, including Australia, will continue to explore the benefits, risks and operations of companies involved in the hemp and medicinal cannabis sectors. In particular, the regulation of hemp and medicinal cannabis is a partisan and divisive issue and, as a result, a change in government or increase in political lobbying may result in a change in government policy and an amendment of legislation and/or regulation. The introduction of new legislation or amendments to existing legislation by governments, or the respective interpretation of the legal requirements in any of the legal jurisdictions which govern the operations or contractual obligations of the Company Group, could impact adversely on the assets, operations and financial performance of QBL and the hemp and medicinal cannabis industry in general. (j) Agricultural Factors: The businesses of Medcan and MCL are reliant on agricultural products. As such, the businesses of Medcan and MCL are subject to the risks inherent in the agricultural industry. These risks include insects, plant diseases, storm, fire, frost, flood, water availability, water salinity, pests, bird damage and force majeure events. (k) Production risk: The ability of the Company to cultivate and produce products is dependent on a number of key inputs and their related costs. These key inputs include raw materials, electricity, water, other utilities and skilled labour. Any significant interruption or negative change in the availability or cost of these inputs could materially impact the production of the business and subsequently, the operating results of the Company Group. (l) Product approval risk: There is a risk that the products produced and supplied by the Company Group are not approved for supply. This risk is particularly relevant

Item	Summary	Further information
	for the Company Group, as it intends to operate in the highly regulated medicinal cannabis industry. (m) Risk of adverse events, product liability or other safety issues: As with all medical or nutraceutical products, there is a risk that the products sold by the Company Group cause serious or unexpected side effects, including risk or injury to consumers. Should any of the Company Group's products be associated with safety risks such as misuse or abuse, inadvertent mislabelling, tampering by unauthorised third parties or product contamination or spoilage, a number of materially adverse outcomes could occur. (n) Competition Risk: There are many new entrants and players in the hemp and medicinal cannabis sector, including other growers and multi-national pharmaceutical companies. Some of these parties may have greater financial, technological, managerial and research and development resources and experience than the Company, which may lead to reduced margins and loss of revenue or loss of market share. If the Company is unable to compete successfully, it may be unable to generate, grow and sustain its revenues and earnings. (o) Strategic Relationship Risk: The Company Group may lose strategic relationships if third parties with whom the Company Group has arrangements are acquired by or enter into relationships with a competitor (which could cause the company to lose access to necessary resources). The Company Group's current competitors could become stronger, or new competitors could form from consolidations. This could cause the Company Group too lose access to markets or expend greater resources in order to stay competitive. (p) Key Supplier Risk: To the extent that the Company Group cannot secure and retain key suppliers, its respective abilities

Item	Summary	Further information
	to maintain consistent production levels may be compromised, which in turn may have a material adverse impact on the financial performance and position of the Company Group. (q) Protection of Intellectual Property: The Company Group's success will depend on, in part, its ability to protect its intellectual property, including its trade marks, copyright, trade secrets and know-how. To the extent the Company fails to protect its intellectual property or infringes a third party's intellectual property, the Company may face increased competition from similar products, have to cease using certain intellectual property or be liable for damages. In the event that this occurs, there is a risk that it has a materially adverse impact on the Company Group's operations, financial performance and future prospects. Key risks associated with mining operations (r) Regulatory Risks: The Company requires permits from regulatory authorities to authorise the Company's operations. These permits relate to exploration, development, production and rehabilitation activities. Obtaining necessary permits can be a time-consuming process and there is a risk that Company will not obtain these permits on acceptable terms, in a timely manner or at all. The costs and delays associated with obtaining necessary permits and complying with these permits and applicable laws and regulations could materially delay or restrict the Company from proceeding with the development of a project or the operation or development of a mine. Any failure to comply with applicable laws and regulations or permits, even if inadvertent, could result in material fines, penalties or other liabilities. In extreme cases, failure could result in suspension of the Company's activities or forfeiture of one or more of the Tenements.

Item	Summary	Further information
	(s) Operations: The operations of the Company may be affected by various factors, including failure to locate or identify mineral deposits, failure to achieve predicted grades in exploration and mining, operational and technical difficulties encountered in mining, difficulties in commissioning and operating plant and equipment, mechanical failure or plant breakdown, unanticipated metallurgical problems which may affect extraction costs, adverse weather conditions, industrial and environmental accidents, industrial disputes and unexpected shortages or increases in the costs of consumables, spare parts, plant and equipment. No assurances can be given that the Company will achieve commercial viability through the successful exploration and/or mining of its tenement interests. Until the Company is able to realise value from its projects, it is likely to incur ongoing operating losses. (t) Mine development: Possible future development of a mining operation at any of the Company's projects is dependent on a number of factors. If the Company commences production, its operations may be disrupted by a variety of risks and hazards which are beyond its control, including environmental hazards, industrial accidents, technical failures, labour disputes, unusual or unexpected rock formations, flooding and extended interruptions due to inclement of hazardous weather conditions and fires, explosions or accidents. No assurance can be given that the Company will achieve commercial viability through the development or mining of its projects and treatment of ore. (u) Equipment and availability: The Company's ability to undertake mining and exploration activities is dependent upon its ability to source and acquire appropriate mining equipment. Equipment is not always available and the market for mining equipment

	experiences fluctuations in supply and demand. If the Company is unable to source appropriate equipment economically or at all then this would have a material adverse effect on the Company's financial or trading position. Please refer to Section 11 for a non-exhaustive list of additional risk factors that apply to the Company, including some key risks associated with investing in an entity which operates within the medicinal cannabis and hemp industries.

The success fee payable in Shares and Options have not been included in the above costs. Refer to Sections 14.1 and 15.9 for further information.
- Working capital allows for ancillary costs associated with executing the strategy of the business. working capital is assumed to be less than 5% of the budget with Year 2 expenditure forming the majority of the balance amount.
- Year 2 expenditure is allocated based on the Directors' assessment of profitable organic growth opportunities, with the business allocating capital to the highest returning divisions and projects.

The above table is a statement of current intentions as of the date of lodgement of this Prospectus with the ASIC. As with any budget, intervening events and new circumstances have the potential to affect the ultimate way funds will be applied. The Board reserves the right to alter the way funds are applied on this basis.

In the event more than the minimum subscription, but less than the maximum subscription is raised, then the above funds will be allocated firstly towards payment of capital raising fees and costs associated with the re-compliance with Chapters 1 and 2 of the ASX Listing Rules, and thereafter each line item will be scaled back on a pro-rata basis based on the actual amount raised.

Actual expenditure may differ significantly from the above estimates due to a change in market conditions, the development of new opportunities and other factors (including the risk factors outlined in Section 11).

The Board believes that the funds raised from the Capital Raising Offer (under either the minimum subscription or the maximum subscription), combined with existing funds, will provide the Company with sufficient working capital to progress its business objectives.

(a) General

Subject to the satisfaction of all the Conditions (see Section 4.6), the issue of Shares offered by this Prospectus will take place as soon as practicable after the Closing Date and in accordance with the timetable set out in Section 3.2.

(b) Allocation of Shares – Capital Raising Offer

Every Applicant may apply for as many new Shares as they wish under the Capital Raising Offer, up to the maximum subscription of 170,000,000 Shares.

The Directors will allocate the Shares, in their absolute discretion, taking into account giving preference to larger and longer-term Shareholders and strategic investors. There is no guaranteed allocation of Shares under the Capital Raising Offer and the Board reserves the right to reject any application or to allocate any applicant fewer Shares than the number applied for under the Capital Raising Offer.

Where the number of Shares issued is less than the number applied for, or where no issue is made, surplus application monies will be refunded (without interest) to the Applicant as soon as practicable after the Closing Date. For example, if the Applicant applies for $20,000 worth of Shares, being 571,429 Shares, and if they are only allocated $10,000 worth of Shares, being 285,715 Shares, then the Company will return the remaining $10,000 to the Applicant.

As noted in further detail in Section 12.7, Directors Phina Feldman and Sholom Feldman intend to participate in the Capital Raising Offer (which participation was approved by Shareholders at the Company's general meeting held on 14 September 2018).

(e) Application monies

Pending the issue of the Shares or payment of refunds pursuant to this Prospectus, all application monies will be held by the Company in trust for Applicants in a separate bank account as required by the Corporations Act. The Company, however, will be entitled to retain all interest that accrues on the bank account and each applicant waives the right to claim interest.

6.10 ASX listing

The Company will apply for Official Quotation of all Shares issued under this Prospectus within 7 days after the date of this Prospectus. However, Applicants should be aware that ASX will not commence Official Quotation of any Shares until the Company has re-complied with Chapters 1 and 2 of the ASX Listing Rules and has received the approval of ASX to be re-admitted to the Official List (see Section 7.8). As such, the Shares may not be able to be traded for some time after the Closing Date.

The fact that ASX may grant Official Quotation to the Shares is not to be taken in any way as an indication of the merits of the Company or the Shares now offered for subscription.

As at the date of this Prospectus it is not intended that the free-attaching Options attaching to Shares offered under the Capital Raising Offer will be quoted. However, the Company will assess the merits of listing the Options and may determine to apply for them to be listed at a date following the close of the Offer.

6.11 Restricted Securities

Subject to the Company re-complying with Chapters 1 and 2 of the ASX Listing Rules and completing the Offers, certain Securities on issue may be classified by ASX as restricted securities and will be required to be held in escrow for up to 24 months from the date of Official Quotation.

The Shares issued pursuant to the Capital Raising Offer however will not be classified as restricted securities and will not be required to be held in escrow.

The Company expects to announce to the ASX full details (quantity and duration) of the Securities required to be held in escrow prior to the Company's listed securities being reinstated to trading on ASX (which reinstatement is subject to ASX's discretion and approval).

6.12 Top 20 Shareholders

The Company will announce to the ASX details of its top 20 Shareholders following the completion of the Offers and prior to the date of re-admission of the Company to the Official List.

6.13 Clearing House Electronic Sub-Register System and Issuer Sponsorship

The Company participates in CHESS. ASX Settlement Pty Ltd, a wholly owned subsidiary of ASX, operates CHESS. Investors who do not wish to participate through CHESS will be issuer sponsored by the Company.

Electronic sub-registers mean that the Company will not be issuing certificates to investors. Instead, investors will be provided with holding statements (similar to a bank account statement) that set out the number of Shares issued to them under this Prospectus. The holding statements will also advise holders of their Holder Identification Number (if the holder is broker sponsored) or Security Holder Reference Number (if the holder is issuer sponsored) and explain, for future reference, the sale and purchase procedures under CHESS and issuer sponsorship.

Electronic sub-registers also mean ownership of Shares can be transferred without having to rely upon paper documentation. Further, monthly statements will be provided to holders if there have been any changes in their security holding in the Company during the preceding month. Shareholders may request a holding statement at any other time, however a charge may be made for such additional statements.

6.14 Applicants outside Australia and New Zealand

This Prospectus does not, and is not intended to, constitute an offer of, or invitation to apply for, Shares in any place or jurisdiction, or to any person to whom, it would not be lawful to make such an offer or invitation. The distribution of this Prospectus in jurisdictions outside Australia or New Zealand may be restricted by law and persons who come into possession of this Prospectus should seek advice on and observe any of these restrictions. Any failure to comply with such restrictions may constitute a violation of applicable securities laws.

No action has been taken to register or qualify the Shares or otherwise permit a public offering of the Shares the subject of this Prospectus in any jurisdiction outside Australia or New Zealand. Applicants who are resident in countries other than Australia or New Zealand should consult their professional advisers as to whether any governmental or other consents are required or whether any other formalities need to be considered and followed in order to accept an offer under this Prospectus.

If you are outside Australia or New Zealand, it is your responsibility to ensure compliance with all laws of any country relevant to, and obtain all necessary approvals for, the issue of the Shares pursuant to this Prospectus. The return of a completed Application Form will be taken by the Company to constitute a representation and warranty by you that there has been no breach of any such laws and all relevant approvals have been obtained.

Where this Prospectus has been dispatched to persons in jurisdictions outside of Australia or New Zealand, in which the securities legislation or regulation requires registration or any analogous treatment, this Prospectus is provided for information purposes only. This Prospectus has not been and will not be registered under any such legislation or regulation or in any such jurisdiction.

The Offers do not and will not constitute an offer of Shares in the United States of America (US). Furthermore, no person ordinarily resident in the US is or will become permitted to submit an Application Form. If the Company believes that any Applicant is ordinarily resident in the US, or is acting on behalf of a person or entity that is ordinarily a resident of the US, the Company will reject that Applicant's application.

6.15 New Zealand

This offer to New Zealand investors is a regulated offer made under Australian and New Zealand law. In Australia, this is Chapter 8 of the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth) and regulations made under that Act. In New Zealand, this is Subpart 6 of Part 9 of the Financial Markets Conduct Act 2013 and Part 9 of the Financial Markets Conduct Regulations 2014.

This offer and the content of this Prospectus are principally governed by Australian rather than New Zealand law. In the main, the Corporations Act 2001 (Aust) and the regulations made under that Act set out how the Offers must be made.

There are differences in how financial products are regulated under Australian law. For example, the disclosure of fees for managed investment schemes is different under the Australian regime.

The rights, remedies, and compensation arrangements available to New Zealand investors in Australian financial products may differ from the rights, remedies, and compensation arrangements for New Zealand financial products.

Both the Australian and New Zealand financial markets regulators have enforcement responsibilities in relation to this offer. If you need to make a complaint about this offer, please contact the Financial Markets Authority, Wellington, New Zealand (www.fma.govt.nz). The Australian and New Zealand regulators will work together to settle your complaint.

The taxation treatment of Australian financial products is not the same as for New Zealand financial products.

If you are uncertain about whether this investment is appropriate for you, you should seek the advice of an appropriately qualified financial adviser.

The offer may involve a currency exchange risk. The currency for the financial products is not New Zealand dollars. The value of the financial products will go up or down according to changes in the exchange rate between that currency and New Zealand dollars. These changes may be significant.

If you expect the financial products to pay any amounts in a currency that is not New Zealand dollars, you may incur significant fees in having the funds credited to a bank account in New Zealand in New Zealand dollars.

If the financial products are able to be traded on a financial product market and you wish to trade the financial products through that market, you will have to make arrangements for a participant in that market to sell the financial products on your behalf. If the financial product market does not operate in New Zealand, the way in which the market operates, the regulation of participants in that market, and the information available to you about the financial products and trading may differ from financial product markets that operate in New Zealand.

6.16 Enquiries

If you have any queries in relation to the Offers, please contact Sholom Feldman, the Company Secretary, on +61 2 9291 9000 or at sfeldman@queenslandbauxite.com.au.

7. COMPANY OVERVIEW

7.1 Business Overview

Queensland Bauxite Limited (Company) is an Australian public company listed on the Official List of the ASX (ASX:QBL). The Company was admitted to the official list of ASX on 14 January 2008.

The Company has been focused on defining significant bauxite resources with a view to developing a bauxite mining and export operation that may include direct shipping ore. The Company has been focussed on targeting long-life operations and positioning itself to participate in the growth of the bauxite sector. Following the completion of a comprehensive study, mapping and review process, the company acquired projects that offer significant prospects for the attainment of high quality gibbsitic bauxite with a low reactive silica content close to key road, rail and port infrastructure.

The Company's bauxite projects are outlined in Section 7.6 and include interests in:

- the South Johnstone Project located in Queensland; and
- the New England Bauxite Project located in the New South Wales.

The Company acquired a 55% shareholding interest in Medical Cannabis Ltd in 2017, which operates a business developing and distributing medicinal cannabis products. MCL has been a key value driver for the Company and has delivered material shareholder returns since the Company's initial investment.

This investment has now grown to a point where the medical cannabis business is a significant business in its own right. In line with this development, the Company announced on 20 June 2018 that it had entered into two related agreements, the Medcan Agreement and the MCL Agreement:

- (a) the Medcan Agreement with Medcan Australia Pty Ltd pursuant to which the Company will acquire 100% of the Medcan Shares and Trust Units from the Medcan Securityholders; and
- (b) the MCL Agreement pursuant to which the Company will acquire the remaining 45% of the MCL Shares from the MCL Shareholders, (together, the Acquisitions).

Upon the successful completion of the Acquisitions, the Company will primarily focus on legally growing and cultivating hemp and medicinal cannabis products to service an increasing demand in the Australian and global markets but will also retain an interest in its existing Bauxite Projects.

Following the acquisition of Medcan and MCL by the Company, the Company will be comprised of two separate operating divisions; mining and cannabis. The Acquisitions will enable the Company to complete its second vertically integrated business from 'seed to consumer' in medicinal cannabis in addition to its current fully vertically operated business in the nutritional hemp industry.

7.2 Reason for the Acquisitions

7.2.1 Overview

The value of MCL and Medcan combined is greater than the sum of the individual businesses. Both parties achieve value uplift with clear and deliverable synergies. Through the Acquisitions, QBL will have access to the Medical Cannabis Production Licence (Australian Cultivation & Production Licence) (Production Licence) from the Office of Drug Control held by Medcan, and will be able to fast track Medcan's market reach and growth of cannabis via its access to MCL's genetics and seed bank knowledge, contacts, expertise and international reach.

Medcan's experienced management will remain with the combined entity and enhance the broader success of the QBL Group. Following the Medcan Acquisition, the Company will be able to fulfil its vision of becoming a fully vertically integrated cannabis company with the ability to develop its own unique products and to produce tailored treatments for patients to the highest standard. It is expected that this new corporate structure and business model will generate greater returns for QBL Shareholders.

The Company's Board and management believe this vertically integrated model is a major competitive advantage for the Company in the Australian cannabis market. By combining a lawfully recognised source with MCL's seed bank of over 25 varieties of unique cultivars, chemovars and genetics which have been developed over two decades, this vertical integration model effectively captures greater profit across the value chain.

The Medcan Acquisition also enables the ability to produce cannabinoids, refined concentrates and isolates for the scientific and research communities, both locally in Australia and overseas. MCL, through its wholly owned subsidiary VitaCann Pty Ltd, already has exclusivity to produce and distribute the CannTab pharmaceutical grade extended release pain relief pill in Australia and Asia.

7.2.2 ODC Production Licence

As outlined above, Medcan has an ODC Production Licence to legally cultivate and produce high THC and CBD chemovars and cultivars to make medicinal cannabis products in Australia. Following the Acquisitions, QBL will have access to Medcan's Production Licence which will enable value maximisation of MCL's established seed bank, unique cannabis genetics and medical cannabis distribution divisions.

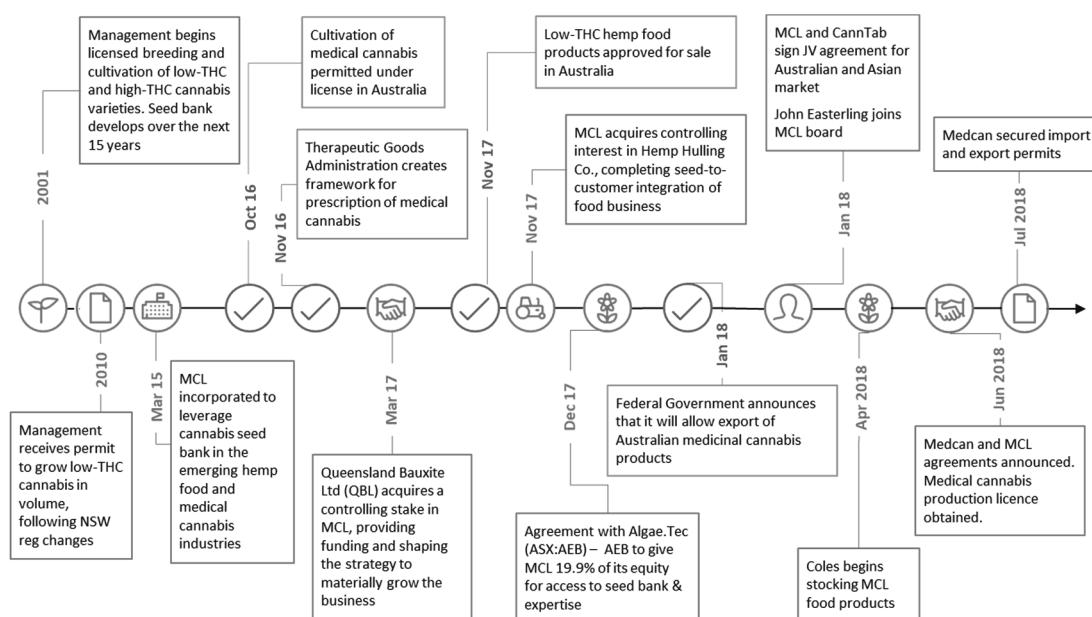

The Company is well placed as an ASX Listed medicinal cannabis company with two complete fully vertically integrated businesses in Australia; nutritional hemp and medicinal cannabis, from seed to consumer.

Medcan's Production Licence will assist QBL to fulfil its aim to cultivate medical cannabis products in Australia and manufacture its own GMP pharmaceuticals, nutraceuticals and therapeutics for distribution and sale to the Australian market and international export market, with the potential to create significant value uplift for QBL Shareholders.

7.3 Medical Cannabis Ltd

MCL is an unlisted public company incorporated on 16 March 2015 for the purpose of capitalising on the industrial hemp seed industry and the medical cannabis market in Australia.

MCL is backed by an intellectual property portfolio, initially developed by one of its directors, Mr Andrew Kavasilas, over more than a decade and continuing to be developed by Mr Kavasilas and the MCL team. Mr Kavasilas has a track record of breeding various strains of cannabis to targeted cannabinoid profiles since 2001. This has resulted in MCL developing a seed bank, containing numerous varieties of cannabis to match demand for different cannabinoid profiles. MCL has over 25 varieties in its seed bank, suitable for both nutritional hemp and medicinal purposes, including dual purpose varieties.

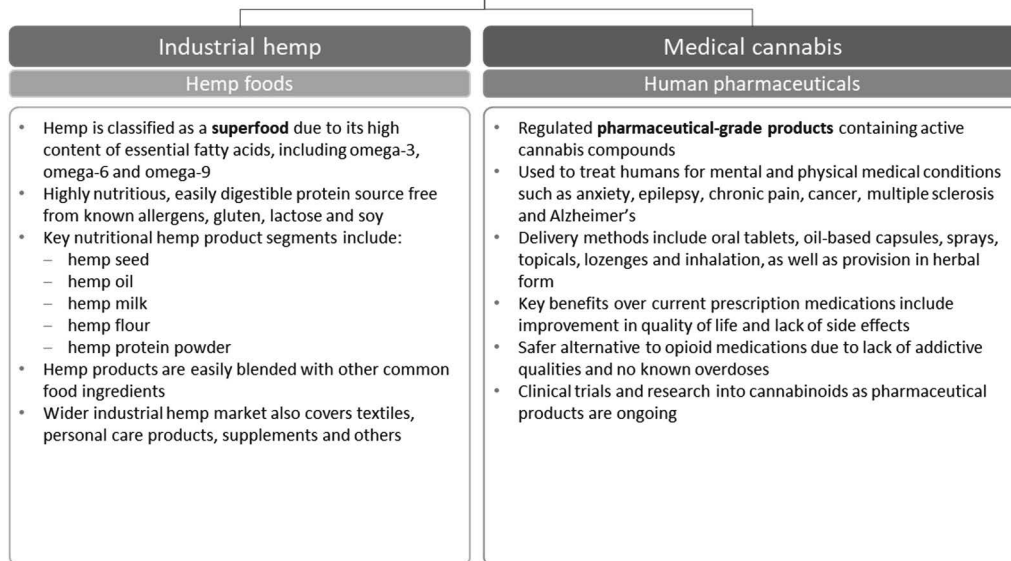

NOTE: Algae Tec Limited has since changed its name to Affinity Energy and Health Limited.

MCL's strategy is to leverage the intellectual property and management expertise it has in the cannabis sector to become a leader in the distribution of medical cannabis products and solidify its position as Australia's premier hemp food company.

MCL has access to Australian approved and certified genetics as well as decades of medical cannabis research leadership and scientific evidence-based patient trials. It is well placed to commercially exploit its intellectual property. MCL's strategy is to develop and improve the commercial opportunities from its existing operations as well as to collaborate with leading research centres where it may be mutually beneficial.

MCL's key management has experience in the cannabis sector and the board has over 40 years combined ASX board experience. The proposed board of MCL after completion of the MCL Acquisition is set out in Section 12.3.

MCL operates in both the industrial hemp and medical cannabis sectors.

7.4 Medcan Australia Pty Ltd

Medcan was founded in Brisbane, Queensland in 2016 by its directors Mr Craig Cochran and Mr Gareth Ball with the vision of providing reliable access to patient specific medicinal cannabis products. Medcan was granted an ODC Production License in November 2017.

Medcan is licensed to legally grow and cultivate high THC and CBD medicinal cannabis products in Australia. Medcan was one of the first medical cannabis companies to receive an ODC Production Licence pursuant to the recent legislative changes and as announced on 19 July 2018 Medcan has also been issued with an Import (no 1820738) and Export (no 1820739) License by the ODC.

Medcan is aiming to cultivate, produce and manufacture high quality medicinal cannabis products for both clinical trials and individual patient access. Medcan's automated cultivation processes are designed to ensure consistent results, so consumers are assured the quality, composition and reliability of their supply.

Medcan has secured a DA approved facility in an industrial area for a medicinal cannabis production complex. The aim is to obtain and outfit this facility, with the highest level of security, which is expected to have the ability to produce initially at a rate of over 6 tonnes in the first year of medicinal cannabis dried flower, and have the ability to produce full extract oil, tinctures and capsules, and the CannTab XR pill, amongst other products.

The proposed development of the medicinal cannabis facility will utilise the latest 'state of the art' automated cultivation techniques allowing complete control of the growing environment. Through climate control systems monitoring temperature, humidity, CO² levels, and advanced nutrient delivery systems reducing the error rate of manual watering, it is expected that the facility will provide controlled, reproducible conditions optimising the ability to provide high grade medicinal cannabis products for both the Australian and international market.

Medcan has an experienced management and production team consisting of Mr Cochran and Mr Ball, both well respected experts in the medicinal cannabis industry. Following the Acquisitions, both Mr Cochran and Mr Ball, whose biographies are set out in Section 12.4, will be continuing as executive directors of Medcan to drive the business forward.

7.4.1 Medical Cannabis Industry Overview

The cannabis plant produces over 100 different types of compounds called cannabinoids (the most well-known cannabinoids being THC and CBD). Cannabinoids act on the cannabinoid receptors of human cells, known as the Endocannabinoid System, and varying the make-up of these chemical compounds can alter the strength and medical efficacy of cannabis. In conjunction to cannabinoids, jointly, another type of compound called terpenes, are also said to be at the helm of many of the therapeutic benefits that users of medical cannabis report.

The Endocannabinoid system in the human body (and within all mammals), a natural cannabinoid receptor, interacts with the cannabinoids in cannabis. These receptors have been shown to affect a large number of different pathological conditions including – cardiovascular, neurodegenerative, reproductive, gastrointestinal, liver, lung skeletal, psychiatric, and cancer diseases. Further, the Endocannabinoid system also controls other vital life functions such as the immune system, memory, appetite, sleep patterns, mood and pain sensation.

Currently there are two widely accepted strains of cannabis, Sativa and Indica. Both strains have different varying effects on the body and mind, which, result in a wide range of medical benefits.

Sativa (high levels of THC) is used to produce medicine with high THC counts and lower CBD counts. The major qualities of Sativa medicinal strains have been reported to include:

- (a) anti-anxiety;
- (b) anti-depressant;
- (c) treats chronic pain;
- (d) increased focus and creativity;
- (e) increased levels of serotonin; and
- (f) are suited for day time use.

Indica (high levels of CBD) is used to produce medicine with high CBD counts and lower THC counts. The major qualities of Indica medicinal strains are reported to include:

- (a) increased mental relaxation;
- (b) muscle relaxation;
- (c) decreased nausea;
- (d) decreased acute pain;
- (e) increased appetite;
- (f) increased dopamine; and

- (g) are suited for night time use.

7.4.2 Regulatory Position of Medical Cannabis in Australia

The regulatory landscape around the medical use of cannabis started to change over the last five years in Australia and has led to an emerging acceptance amongst society and medical practitioners where conventional treatment has been unavailable.

In February 2016, the Australian Federal Government passed legislation to enable the cultivation of cannabis for medicinal and related research purposes, and on 29 October 2016 the amendments relating to the licensing came into effect under the Narcotics Drugs Act 1967. As a result, a detailed regulatory framework was put in place to enable the applications for licenses and permits for cultivation, production and manufacture of medicinal cannabis products.

There are currently three main types of licenses relating to the supply of medical cannabis products available and are distributed through the Office of Drug Control under the Department of Health in Australia:

- (a) licenses authorising cultivation or production or both;
- (b) cannabis research licences; and
- (c) manufacturing licences.

In January 2018, the Australian Federal Government announced that it was allowing the export of Australian medicinal cannabis products providing a further boost to the industry that was facing imports into Australia.

Medical cannabis products are available for specific patient groups under medical supervision at a state level. Access to medical marijuana at a state level is as follows:

- (a) Victoria: Currently any patient with any medical condition can apply via their doctor to use medicinal cannabis.
- (b) Queensland: Currently legal by prescription from specialists for use by patients with a range of conditions including Multiple Sclerosis, epilepsy, chemotherapy induced nausea and vomiting and palliative care (loss of appetite, nausea, vomiting, pain).
- (c) New South Wales: The NSW government has established the Medicinal Cannabis Compassionate Use Scheme, which allows patients with a terminal illness to be possession of cannabis which is not lawfully prescribed.
- (d) Australian Capital Territory: Patients that fall within schedule 6 of the ACT Government Health Medicines, Poisons and Therapeutic Goods (Category Approval) Determination 2018 (No 1). This list includes patients with multiple sclerosis, chemotherapy induced nausea and vomiting, pain and/or anxiety in patients with active malignancy of a life limiting disease and refractory paediatric epilepsy.
- (e) Tasmania: The Tasmanian government has developed a medical cannabis-controlled access scheme which allows relevant medical practitioners to be authorized to prescribe medical cannabis in circumstances, in which, conventional treatment has been unsuccessful.

- (f) Western Australia: Currently legal by prescription. Only some medical conditions are suitable for approval to use cannabis-based products under the WA legislation.
- (g) South Australia: Currently legal by prescription under certain conditions through the patient access pathway.
- (h) Northern Territory: Currently legal, access is restricted to appropriate patients with certain medical conditions where there is evidence to support its therapeutic use.

In addition to the above, the diagram below, which is published on the Therapeutic Goods Administration (TGA) website provides an overview of the processes and regulatory bodies involved at the Federal level.

7.4.3 Medical Cannabis Market Drivers

The demand and growth in the medicinal cannabis market is thought to be driven by a number of factors. These include, but are not limited to:

- (a) Regulatory reform: Legal access to medical cannabis products is the key driver of market growth. Australia has seen significant reform in the past two years and is now currently on the public spotlight due to the increasing amount of positive research surrounding the benefits of medical cannabis.
- (a) Clinical trials: A significant increase in the number of clinical trials that are currently underway globally are expected to increase rapidly. This should result in high-quality data to guide medical professionals in the varying applications of medical marijuana to human consumption.
- (b) Safety profile: A further understanding of the reduced side effects, well documented increased quality of life and the remote likelihood of a potential overdose will provide medical cannabis with a strong safety profile that will make it an appropriate addition to the options available to patients, that look to treat various medical issues.

- (c) Rising social acceptability: Shifting societal perception of marijuana from its traditional broader public and social stigma has led to an increased acceptance and legitimacy as an alternative treatment via medical cannabis products.
- (d) Aging population: Chronic illnesses are becoming more prevalent as first-world populations continue to age. In turn, this will drive demand for effective medications.

7.4.4 Nutritional Hemp Industry Overview

Hemp is classified as a superfood due to its nutritional benefits:

- (a) Good source of omega: hemp is a good source of essential fatty acids with an ideal ratio of 3:1 for omega-6 to omega-3.
- (b) Source of protein & amino acids: hemp contains all 10 essential amino acids.
- (c) Gluten free: hemp seeds are gluten free.
- (d) Good for the gut: hemp does not contain enzyme inhibitors unlike other vegetables and the body can easily digest the nutrients contained in a serving.

Many major geographies have legalised the retail sale of hemp food products, including Australia. Nutritional hemp was legalised in Australia in November 2017, with MCL well placed to take advantage of this growing industry with its existing farming network and production infrastructure.

The wider Australian food market is seeing growth in higher-value, healthier and free-from alternatives to traditional groceries. Organic retail sales grew at a compound annual growth rate of 12.4% over period 2011-2016, with market value in 2016 at $701.3m and demand expected to continue outstripping supply, according to the USDA Foreign Agricultural Service.

The nutritional hemp industry in Australia is in an early stage, given hemp food only became legal domestically in November 2017. MCL is well positioned given it has a vertically integrated food business from the seed to the shelf and existing management experience in distributing organic and health orientated food products. MCL is unaware of a hemp food producer with larger processing capacity with competitors small, fragmented and not integrated along the value chain.

7.4.5 Nutritional Hemp Market Drivers

The demand and growth in the nutritional hemp market is thought to be driven by a number of factors. These include, but are not limited to:

- (a) Regulatory reform: Legal access to hemp food products is the key driver behind market growth. Retail in Australia was legalised in November 2017 and thus the market is in its infancy and growing off a low base.
- (b) Food allergies: A rise in food allergies, including gluten and lactose intolerances, is driving a need for free-from alternatives that are easy to digest.

- (c) Changing diets: Demand for meat-free protein sources and alternative healthy oils is rising due to changing dietary habits globally as consumers focus on wellness and sustainability.
- (d) Health consciousness: Growing levels of health consciousness encourage consumers to seek out healthier alternatives to traditional snacks.

7.5 QBL Business Model Following the Acquisitions

Following the integration of Medcan and MCL into the Company, the Company will be comprised of two separate operating divisions; mining and cannabis.

Upon the successful completion of the Acquisitions, the Company will primarily focus on legally growing and cultivating hemp and medicinal cannabis products to service an increasing demand in the Australian and global markets but will also retain an interest in its existing Bauxite Projects.

There will be no change to the Board as a result of the Acquisitions (see section 12.1), however through the acquisition of Medcan and MCL, the Company will gain access to the skilled management teams of each of these respective companies.

7.5.1 Cannabis Division

The Acquisitions will enable the Company to complete its second vertically integrated business from 'seed to consumer' in medicinal cannabis, following the successful vertical integration achieved in 2017 in the nutritional hemp sector.

Following the Acquisitions, the Company plans to utilise MCL and Medcan's management experience in the cannabis industry and the intellectual property it has developed in its seed bank to take advantage of opportunities relating to the emerging medical cannabis and nutritional hemp industries.

Through its existing investment in seed growing and food processing infrastructure, the Company intends to generate revenue from hemp food and nutritional products. The proposed acquisition of T12 with its product range and client base, is expected to enhance and fast track the development of this side of the business. Marketing and branding strategies are aimed at both growing market share and increasing the size of the fledgling industry. The Company's vertically integrated structure is aimed at maximising margins across the value chain.

MCL's medical cannabis strategy is to leverage the value of the cannabis genetics it has developed over the last decade. Partnerships on auto immune and multiple sclerosis cannabis research with the world leading Israeli professors and cannabis research laboratory facilities at the Technion in Haifa, and the exporting of genetics to CannTab for use in medical cannabis products are examples.

MCL also intends to distribute medical cannabis products in Australia, initially pain relief products via an agreement with CannTab (summarised in section 14.7). The Company will now also, through MCL and Medcan, be able to grow and manufacture its own medical cannabis products for the local and global markets through its acquisition of Medcan.

MCL believes there is significant value in its intellectual property and the implementation of its strategy to generate potential revenues in the medical cannabis and nutritional hemp industries.

7.5.2 MCL Business Model

MCL operates in the industrial hemp and medicinal cannabis industries. MCL has three key divisions that leverage its seed bank; namely, growing and cultivating, retail products and medical applications. Below is an outline of important MCL subsidiaries:

- (a) VitaSeeds Pty Ltd (growing and cultivating): MCL's growing and cultivating division gathers seed from existing production locations in both New South Wales and Victoria. The majority of the biomass collected is for nutritional hemp food products, while MCL does have a small growing facility in NSW for growing cannabis for genetic breeding purposes. The acquisition of Medcan will significantly increase growing capacity for medical cannabis.
- (b) Hemp Hulling Co (Qld) Pty Ltd (retail products – processing): MCL owns a majority stake (55%) in Hemp Hulling Co (Qld) Pty Ltd, a manufacturer of hemp foods based in Queensland, Australia. Hemp Hulling Co converts hemp seed into hemp food products for distribution via the Company's Vitahemp brand, as well as other third-party brands.
- (c) VitaHemp Pty Ltd (retail products – marketing): The retail division largely encompasses nutritional hemp, where MCL has rights to package and distribute low THC hemp food products, such as protein powder, edible seeds and hemp oil.
- (d) Medical Cannabis Research Group Pty Ltd (medical research): MCL's medical division seeks to take advantage of the company's seed bank and management regulatory experience to develop and progress medical applications of cannabis, including in association and collaboration with the world's leading cannabis researchers, including with world leading researchers at the Haifa Technion in Israel.

7.5.3 Seed bank & management knowledge

MCL's management team and in particular Mr Kavasillas, has a track record of breeding various strains of cannabis to targeted cannabinoid profiles since 2001. MCL has over 25 varieties in its seed bank, suitable for both medicinal purposes and food products, including dual purpose varieties. The value of the seed bank can be for internal purposes, such as developing varieties that match the demand profile for downstream pharmaceuticals for medical applications, or for improved farming for food product varieties.

The seed bank also has significant potential value to third parties, for example, ASX listed Affinity Energy and Health Limited (ASX:AEB) (Affinity Energy) has agreed to give MCL up to 19.9% of its company equity for access to MCL's seed bank for the development of veterinary products.

MCL is well placed to commercially exploit its intellectual property. The Company's strategy is to develop and improve the commercial opportunities from its existing operations as well as to collaborate with leading research centres where it may be mutually beneficial.

7.5.4 Leveraging strategic relationships

MCL collaborates with third parties in the medical cannabis industry, including:

- (a) CannTab: For the distribution of pharmaceutical medical cannabis products, with an intention to supply cannabis genetics in time, contingent on licence approvals. CannTab is the Canadian company which has developed a GMP Pharmaceutical Grade Extended Release (XR) pill to alleviate chronic pain, and VitaCann has entered into a joint venture agreement to distribute the CannTab product range into the Australian market. Refer to Section 14.7 for further information.
- (b) Haifa Technion Israel: A leading partner with MCL is professor David (Dedi) Meiri, the Head of the Cannabis Department of the Haifa Technion in Israel. Professor Meiri, in conjunction with MCL, has been researching ways of strengthening the human body's autoimmune system to enable it to fight the numerous autoimmune diseases effecting multi-millions of people worldwide, focussing initially on Multiple Sclerosis.
- (c) Affinity Energy: An ASX listed company that aims to utilise the asset base of MCL, via MCL's seed bank, to research veterinary applications of medical cannabis. MCL is exposed to potential research discoveries via equity ownership in Affinity Energy and royalty arrangements.
- (d) Various research groups: MCL collaborates with various research groups and parties involved in clinical evaluations in the medical cannabis industry in the effort to discover the benefits of medical cannabis, substantiate proposed medical claims and, subject to the regulatory approval of proposed products, produce products for the broader population.

7.5.5 Nutritional Hemp division

Through its existing investment in seed growing and food processing infrastructure, the Company intends to generate revenue from hemp food and nutritional products.

Marketing and branding strategies are aimed at both growing market share and increasing the size of the fledgling industry. The Company's vertically integrated structure is aimed at maximising margins across the value chain.

Hulled Hemp Seeds

Raw hemp seeds possess an optimal ratio of omega 3, 6 & 9 for long term healthy human nutrition, are naturally low in carbohydrates and high in BCAA's. Hemp seeds naturally contain all 10 essential amino acids, a range of vitamins and minerals including calcium, folate, iron, high in protein and more. VitaHemp suggests customers try in smoothies, add to yoghurts, salads, also in baking. The hulled seeds when mixed in a high-speed blender produce a delicious fresh vegan milk.

Hemp Protein

VitaHemp hemp seed protein powder is high in digestible protein (52%) and possesses 20 amino acids, including the 10 essential amino acids that the human body is unable to produce on its own. Hemp seed protein powder is a natural source of vitamins A, C and E and beta-carotene and is rich in protein, carbohydrates, minerals and fibre. Used in protein shakes, baking, smoothies and as a breakfast topping.

Hemp Oil

With its familiar nutty flavour, this high quality versatile oil can be added to smoothies, applied to salads, dressings, sauces, pasta dishes, drizzled over cooked fish and meat, incorporated in low heat baked recipes such as cakes, cookies and desserts and in many other instances where high quality nut oils are used. Excellent for vegetarians and vegans.

Hemp Oil Capsules

Hemp seed oil is also a fish oil replacement, a great source of antioxidants (Vitamin E), minerals and Vitamin D, which is vital for calcium absorption, along with generous amounts of iron and zinc. A rich source of essential fatty acids and gamma linolenic acid, hemp seed oil includes omega 6 and omega 3 in a naturally occurring 3:1 ratio, considered an essential part of a balanced diet.

Hemp Flour

VitaHemp hemp seed flour is a very versatile baked goods ingredient, naturally gluten- free, it is a nutritious and flavoursome alternative or enhancer to wheat-flour. It is a great substitute for those with gluten intolerance, especially for our changing diets where highly processed ingredients and foods are being avoided. The product is wheat, nut and grain free, rich in fibre and protein and a supplementary source of amino acids.

7.6 Mining division

Following completion of the Acquisitions, the Company will also focus on progressing its Bauxite assets to commercialisation. QBL's strategy in this regard is to:

- (a) define significant bauxite resources close to port and near established infrastructure;
- (b) short list potential joint venture partners;
- (c) gain requisite approvals;
- (d) establish mining operations;
- (e) export bauxite ore to Asian alumina refineries;

- (f) use initial DSO cash flow to fund further exploration and DSO production expansion; and
- (g) acquire or joint venture other mining projects of value to the Company.

Summary of South Johnstone Project

The Company has been granted a mineral development licence (MDL) from the Queensland Department of Natural Resources, Mines and Energy (DNRME) at the Company's South Johnstone Bauxite Project in northern Queensland.

The South Johnstone Project is particularly well situated geographically as it is located only 15-24 kilometres from the Port of Mourilyan where there is a currently available export allocation to QBL and capacity for direct shipping to export markets.

The MDL grant is an important milestone for the Company. It is part of its overall strategy to develop an export operation in a staged development of South Johnstone that allows for long term mining and export, prospect by prospect at low cost. Conclusion of offtake or partnership arrangements and the initial pilot programme should prove the viability of this approach for the long term.

Concurrently, QBL will look to increase the JORC Indicated Resource from ongoing regional work programs while commencing production on the first prospects.

The main objective of the Company in developing this project is to generate positive net cash flows as quickly as possible.

Following on from the grant of the MDL by the DNRME in respect of the South Johnstone Bauxite Project and the sending of bulk samples to potential customer refineries to secure off take, members of the Company's management team, as announced on 26 April 2018, have recently visited several Chinese bauxite refineries and aluminium smelters to discuss development of the South Johnstone Bauxite Project. The team has also met with Hong Kong based metals marketing platforms who have expressed an interest to assist in the commodity trading with QBL. This remains an ongoing process.

Off take

The Company is continuing its discussions with a number of groups including end users for off take of bauxite from South Johnstone.

Progress is being made in discussions with offtake partners and the current strategy of enabling the project to be ready for production in a staged manner will assist these efforts, by giving the end users clarity of timing for buying of the product.

High Demand

Forward demand continues to be strong for bauxite given the favourable demand and supply metrics.

The global market requires a constant supply of bauxite to meet the growing demand and South Johnstone is well positioned to capitalise on demand.

Bauxite at South Johnstone is predominantly gibbsite which is the preferred form of bauxite as it is easier to process at low temperature than non-gibbsitic bauxite.

Port

Profit margins in bauxite mines in general are strongly affected by transportation costs, and producers often need to build the railroads and roads to transport the material many kilometres to a deep water port, and then in addition pay the cost of shipping from that port to a large importer of bauxite like China.

North Queensland is one of the nearest ports to China. It is closer than nearly all the major bauxite export provinces around the world.

The Company's South Johnstone Bauxite Project in North Queensland is situated near a deep water port suitable for exports and stands to have a significant competitive advantage in terms of transport and shipping costs.

Geological Summary of Material Information

QBL has an Indicated JORC Resource of 1.9 million tonnes at Camp Creek located within the larger South Johnstone Project.

QBL's JORC Code Indicated Resource within EPM 18463 is based on a coverage of holes on a 200m x 200m grid over most of Camp Creek (51 auger holes and 1 aircore hole drilled into a sound geological model with bauxite recovered in most of those holes). Based on this understanding, a select portion of the bauxite mineralisation at Camp Creek (1.9Mt at 29.7% Av Al₂O₃ 3.2% Rx SiO₂) has been classified as a JORC Code Indicated Resource (Refer tables below).

Camp Creek is one of the areas of bauxite mineralisation discovered by the Company through its regional drilling programs within exploration permit EPM 18463. EPM18463 was applied for by the Company to cover a bauxite exploration target (basaltic lava flows within the palaeo-Johnstone valley) based on the geologic model.

Geology and Geological Interpretation

Bauxite mineralisation occurs at surface in a weathering profile that is known from the drilling to extend from surface to a depth of about 5m. It is found as a continuous blanket overlying flat-lying basalt flows of the Atherton Province within EPM18463. The deposit formed by weathering of the basalt surfaces with resultant leaching of silica downwards and concentration of alumina towards the surface of the profile. In most of the drilling carried out to date, a gradual decline in alumina and increase in silica with depth is noted in the first few metres indicating an in-situ weathering profile over basalt.

Confidence in the geological interpretation of the mineral deposit at Camp Creek, and specifically within the MDL area, is high because of its simple geometry and topographic conformity - a flat-lying visible weathering horizon at surface related to a palaeo-surface. Drilling to date indicates there is little to no overburden.

Drilling on a 50m x 50m grid provides confidence that the geology and mineralisation can be interpolated between boreholes containing bauxite across un-dissected terrain at the same general elevation. Mineralisation at Camp Creek was only previously inferred from hole SJAC052 with the topography/geomorphology guiding the initial Inferred Resource estimation with topographic features such as plateaus, ridge tops etc, interpreted to be part of the original flat lava surface. Results from the September 2014 200m x 200m auger drilling program and the May/June 2015 50m x 50m air core/ auger drilling program at Camp Creek have proved the geological model to be accurate, giving higher confidence to the other resource areas inferred by the Company elsewhere in EPM18463.

Continuity of the mineral deposit was not assumed where the terrain is dissected by younger drainages (i.e. around the plateau edges). Drilling at Camp Creek has also shown this assumption to be correct - i.e. that the surrounding bauxite has been eroded away beyond the current plateau edges.

Mineral Resources and Ore Reserves Statement

Table of Results

The Company's independently reviewed JORC Code Indicated mineral resources are listed in the following table:

Queensland Bauxite Annual Review of JORC Indicated Mineral Resources
Year	Commodity	Tonnage (t)	Grade Avail Al ₂ O ₃	Grade Rx SiO ₂	Category	Location
2013-2014	Bauxite	nil	-	-	-	EPM18463
2014-2015	Bauxite	1,900,000	29.7%	3.2%	Indicated Resource	EPM18463

The material changes in the Company's listed JORC Indicated mineral resources are based on exploration drilling and analytical work carried out during the reporting period.

The Company's JORC Inferred mineral resources for the reporting year 2014-2015 and previous year are listed in the following table:

Queensland Bauxite Annual Review of JORC Inferred Mineral Resources
Year	Commodity	Tonnage (t)	Grade Avail Al ₂ O ₃	Grade Rx SiO ₂	Category	Location
2013-2014	Bauxite	30,000,000	25.2%	6.9%	Inferred Resource	EPM18463
2014-2015	Bauxite	unreported	unreported	unreported	-	EPM18463

The material changes in the Company's listed JORC Inferred mineral resources are a result of the fact that the Company has decided to base all future mine scoping studies on independently-reviewed JORC Indicated results, or better, and will no longer be reporting results at the Inferred level.

The Company has not announced any JORC Measured Resources or Ore Reserves at the present time.

7.7 Corporate structure following the Acquisitions

Corporate Structure Diagram

Following completion of the Acquisitions, and the Company's proposed acquisition of T12, the Company's corporate structure will be as follows:

Outline of QBL and group entities following Medcan, MCL and T12 acquisitions

Queensland Bauxite Limited will be ASX listed parent entity (intended to be renamed Cann Global Limited).

QBL's subsidiaries will comprise the following:

- (a) Medical Cannabis Limited: Public company in which QBL holds an existing 55% interest, with remaining 45% proposed to be acquired by QBL pursuant to the MCL Acquisition, which will make MCL 100% owned by QBL. MCL has the following subsidiaries:
 - (i) VitaSeeds Pty Ltd: Sourcing and farming of hemp seeds.
 - (ii) VitaHemp Pty Ltd: Marketing and distribution of nutritional hemp products.
 - (iii) Hemp Hulling Co. (Qld) Pty Ltd: Processes nutritional hemp product for MCL as well as third party brands. HHC has a 50% interest in Waltanna Hemp Group Pty Ltd, an entity which has authority to prioritise Waltanna Farms hemp processing capacity for MCL.
 - (iv) Affinity Energy and Health Limited: Affinity Energy is an ASX-listed company (ASX:AEB) with a focus on developing technology to produce commercial quantities of algae and medicinal cannabis, which has a partnership agreement with MCL. Affinity Energy has provided MCL with an option to acquire up to 19.9% of its equity (current MCL ownership is 15%) in consideration for the Company's entry into a research partnership in respect of the Company's cannabis research and genetics expertise.

- (v) Medical Cannabis Research Group Pty Ltd: Holds specific cannabis related intellectual property, including a research sponsorship agreement with the Haifa Technion research institute in Israel regarding medical cannabis research discoveries in the research being undertaken for auto immune diseases focusing initially on multiple sclerosis (refer to Section 14.8 for further information). Dr David (Dedi) Meiri is a leading researcher in cannabis.
- (b) Medcan Australia Pty Ltd (Medcan Australia Trust): Responsible for the production and manufacturing of medical cannabis for human applications.
- (c) VitaCann Pty Ltd: Holding company for international medical cannabis relationships. VitaCann Pty Ltd currently owns 50% of an unincorporated joint venture with CannTab (CNSX: PILL) to distribute the CannTab product range into the Australian market.
- (d) T12 Holdings Pty Ltd: Parent company of Organic Markets Direct which includes brands EM Super Foods, Australian Grown Naturals, Black Bag and OMD. T12 will become a wholly owned subsidiary of QBL following completion of the T12 Agreement (summarised in Section 14.5).

- (f) South Johnstone Bauxite Pty Ltd: Owns 20% of EPM 18463 and 20% of MDL 2004.

QBL also has two dormant subsidiaries which are not noted in the above diagram named QBL Asia Mining Pty Ltd and Rosie's Gold Pty Ltd. These entities are currently dormant and not relevant for the purposes of the above structure.

7.8 Revenue generation strategy

7.8.1 Cannabis Division

As discussed previously, the Company's subsidiary Medical Cannabis Limited has three key divisions that leverage the Company's seed bank; growing and cultivating, retail products and medical research.

Growing and cultivating: MCL generates revenue for this division by passing nutritional hemp seeds downstream to MCL's retail division. MCL has the necessary licenses to grow and sell hemp (low THC cannabis), with revenue generation from this vertical a near term strategic goal.

Retail products: MCL has the capacity to process hemp seed into products available for retail sales via two manufacturing facilities in VIC and QLD. These facilities produce various health-oriented products, including hemp protein powder, hemp seeds and hemp oil. Revenue is currently being generated from the sale of these products under both the 100% owned Vitahemp brand as well as by processing, packaging and distributing for third party brands. QBL is well positioned to be competitive in this market given the Company is vertically integrated and controls the value chain from the seed to the consumer. MCL produced products are Australian made and sold at various domestic locations.

Medical products and research: Aside from selling medical cannabis in its flower or oil form, MCL's medical division is focused on research, development and commercialisation of new treatments using medical grade cannabis. Examples include:

- (a) Multiple Sclerosis (MS): In partnership with experienced researchers in Israel, MCL is funding research into medical cannabis treatments for MS. Existing MS treatments ultimately do not arrest the progression of the disease and MCL is sponsoring research to indicate where cannabis genetics may provide an improved treatment, in return for an exclusive license on any products derived from the research.
- (b) "CannTab Therapeutics Australia" Joint Venture: MCL's wholly owned subsidiary VitaCann Pty Ltd has established a corporate joint venture with Canadian company CannTab Therapeutics Ltd (CannTab) (JV). The JV aims to develop and distribute pharmaceutical grade extended release pills which the Company believes has the potential to be an effective pain relief substitute. Clinical trials are to be planned to determine to what extent this product could take market share from existing treatments.
- (c) Veterinary products: The Company has also entered into an arrangement with ASX-listed Affinity Energy and Health Limited, a Company seeking to develop medicinal cannabis products for the veterinary market. MCL is to benefit from any success in the research via an equity stake in Affinity Energy itself and further royalties on income earned from successful products. There is both material upside and potential risk surrounding the timing and magnitude of the revenues of the medical division.

The above agreements are summarised in sections 14.6 to 14.8.

7.8.2 Mining Division

The mining division seeks to exploit its bauxite resources for its commercial advantage. The strategy for revenue generation is to advance the Company's projects to a state where potential customers will seek to contract for DSO. The Company is advancing the South Johnstone project to ready the project for construction and is in discussions with potential customers to secure offtake.

7.9 Competitive Positioning

There are over 12 ASX listed companies selling or seeking to sell cannabis related products for both medical and retail markets. The competitive positioning of the Company is highlighted below.

7.9.1 Competitive Advantage

The Company plans to utilise its management experience in the cannabis industry and the intellectual property it has developed in its seed bank to take advantage of opportunities relating to the emerging medical cannabis and nutritional hemp industries.

Through its existing investment in seed growing and food processing infrastructure, the Company intends to generate revenue from the sale of hemp food products. Marketing and branding strategies are aimed at both growing market share and increasing the size of the fledgling industry. The Company's vertically integrated structure is aimed at maximising margins across the value chain.

The Company's medical cannabis strategy includes leveraging the value of the cannabis genetics it has developed over the last decade. Partnerships on MS research with world class Israeli facilities and the potential exporting of genetics to partners such as CannTab for use in medical cannabis products are strategies the Company is seeking to execute on. The Company intends to distribute medical cannabis products in Australia, initially flowers and oils produced in Australia at its Medcan production facility and also pain relief products via the CannTab JV.

7.9.2 Cannabis seed bank & management knowledge

The Company's management team and in particular Andrew Kavasilas, has a track record of breeding various strains of cannabis to targeted cannabinoid profiles since 2001. The Company has over 25 varieties in its seed bank, suitable for both medicinal purposes and food products, including dual purpose varieties. The value of the seed bank can be for internal purposes, such as developing varieties that match the demand profile for downstream pharmaceuticals for medical applications or for improved farming for food product varieties. The seed bank also has potential value to third parties, for example, ASX listed Affinity Energy (ASX:AEB) has agreed to give MCL up to 19.9% of its company equity for access to MCL's seed bank. Refer to section 14.6 for further information.

The Company is well placed to commercially exploit its intellectual property. The Company's strategy is to develop and improve the commercial opportunities from its existing operations as well as to collaborate with leading research centres where it may be mutually beneficial.

7.9.3 Strong leadership team

MCL's board has experience in the cannabis sector and over 40 years combined ASX board experience. Management have the relevant industry and regulatory connections and prior experience advising regulators and governments on cannabis reform. With a strong history of growing emerging companies, the board and management are well placed to execute on the Company's strategy.

7.9.4 Leveraging strategic relationships

MCL collaborates with third parties in the medical cannabis industry, including:

- (a) CannTab (CNSX:PILL): The Company has a joint venture with CannTab for the immediate distribution of pharmaceutical medical cannabis products in Australia and Asia, in addition to an intention for MCL to potentially supply CannTab with its cannabis genetics in time, contingent on licence approvals.
- (b) Affinity Energy (ASX:AEB): AEB is an ASX listed company that aims to utilise the asset base of the Company, via it's seed bank, to research veterinary applications of medical cannabis. The Company is exposed to potential research discoveries via equity ownership in Affinity Energy and royalty arrangements.
- (c) Various research groups: MCL collaborates with various research groups and parties involved in clinical evaluations in the medical cannabis industry in the effort to discover the benefits of medical cannabis, substantiate proposed medical claims and, subject to the regulatory approval of proposed products, produce products for the broader population.

7.9.5 Mining division

Bauxite is a bulk commodity that feeds into the alumina and aluminium supply chains. Features of a competitive project include:

- (a) low operating costs;
- (b) high product quality;
- (c) close access to key infrastructure including ports and roads; and
- (d) end user demand for product.

The Company is actively speaking to end users to ascertain the best target customers for its mining assets and is seeking to optimise operating and capital costs to ensure the assets are as competitively placed geologically as possible.

7.10 Key Dependencies of the Business Model

The key dependencies for the Company to meet its objectives are:

7.10.1 Medical Cannabis

- (a) Company owned genetics: MCL has over 25 varieties in its seed bank, suitable for both nutritional hemp and medicinal purposes, including dual purpose varieties.
- (b) Product development: The Company is targeting future sales in the domestic medical cannabis industries. MCL's strategy has been to develop a product pipeline it believes will be attractive to both consumers and the medical community.
- (c) Ongoing research: The value of the seed bank is to match the genetics of the company's lawfully sourced cannabis varieties to areas of demand in the medical and nutritional cannabis industries. An ongoing priority for the Company's subsidiary, VitaSeeds Pty Ltd, will be the ongoing development and cultivation of varieties and strains.
- (d) Compliance with domestic and international regulations: Medical cannabis is a regulated market. The Company requires connections with key authorities and regulators to be maintained, with smooth and compliant relations a key priority for the Company.

7.10.2 Nutritional Hemp

- (a) Quality management: MCL's subsidiary HHC seeks to maintain its reputation for producing high quality food products in tandem with increasing sales volumes.
- (b) Optimise processing rates: HHC has recently completed a large expansion of its processing facility, in order to meet market demand. The ramp up to full utilisation and recovery rates will be an important value driver over the next six months.
- (c) Expanding distribution: The Australian market is the core sales area of the business, with the Company developing strong relationships with distributors to health stores, chemists and the Company's online retail presence. In time, VitaHemp intends to seek export market opportunities, with management having established relationships into the Asian market and prior experience placing organic Australian produce into Korea, Japan, Hong Kong and China.

- (d) Market education: Hemp products are naturally high in protein and have a favourable omega 6 and omega 3 oil ratio. The addition of hemp food products to breakfast or smoothies have nutritional benefits. In order to be considered a food ingredient, THC must be below 5mg/kg for hulled hemp seeds. VitaHemp Pty Ltd's marketing will focus on promoting the benefits of Australian grown hemp foods and communicating to the market the lack of psychoactive ingredients.
- (e) Dependence on licenses and permits: Nutritional hemp is subject to THC testing, to ensure hemp seeds at the farm are suitable for broad human consumption. The Company has access to licenses required for its activities in the Australian hemp food market.

7.10.3 Suppliers and important contracts

- (a) Medical cannabis: The medical cannabis division will primarily use its own seed genetics for growing medical cannabis products. The key suppliers for this division relate to the procurement and maintenance of growing equipment at its Medcan production operation. Medcan has undergone an extensive due diligence process on potential suppliers for its production facility with quality, reliability and operating costs factoring into contractual decision making.
- (b) Nutritional hemp: The nutritional hemp business contract farms for its Australian grown hemp seeds. Contract farmers are mandated to exclusively supply the Company with nutritional hemp seeds and are paid according to the yield of the harvest. The Company manages the supply of hemp seeds in line with its expectation of market demand in the year ahead.
- (c) Mining: The mining division does not have material suppliers as yet given the early stage nature of the project. Key suppliers and contracts will be noted when the company executes on its strategy to secure suitable offtake partners.

7.10.4 Reliance on intellectual property and key licences

- (a) Medical cannabis: Licensing is a key driver of value realisation for the Medical cannabis division. As outlined in paragraph 7.4.2. Medcan has an ODC Cultivation and Production Licence pursuant to the recent legislative changes has also been issued with an Import and Export License under the ODC. Strict adherence to the compliance procedures of regulators will ensure the Company has the continued benefit of these important licenses.
- (b) Nutritional hemp: The Company relies on licenses to grow and import/export nutritional hemp seeds. Given the low THC content of nutritional hemp, the conditions of these licenses are less onerous than what is expected in the medical cannabis division.
- (c) Mining: The Company's mining division has active exploration permits and is working towards securing mining lease applications. These permits and leases are vital for the continuance of the business and the implementation of the revenue realisation strategy.

7.10.5 Mining Division

- (a) Active exploration permits: The Company's mining division holds active exploration licences in Queensland (EPM 18463 and MDL 2004) and New South Wales (EL 7301) which form the cornerstone of its South Johnstone and New England bauxite projects.
- (b) Mining Lease application: The Company works towards satisfying requirements to make application for a mining lease (ML) over its Camp Creek JORC Resource.

7.10.6 Ongoing financing

The Company expects its investments in the cannabis division to be cash generative near term. Medium term, ongoing financing will primarily be generated from operating cashflows. The Company will retain close ties to key capital market participants to ensure it has access to funds should they be required for growth opportunities. Should the company proceed with a mining investment decision, the scale of capital required may require external support.

7.11 Growth Strategy

The Company has an active policy to prioritise internal growth. However, the management team is well positioned to identify and act upon growth opportunities with synergistic benefits, should they arise.

For growth, the Company intends to increase Shareholder value as per the vision outlined above, by adopting the following strategies:

7.11.1 Medical Cannabis

- (a) Organic industry growth: The domestic medical cannabis industry in Australia is at a fledgling stage and is likely to experience growth as the industry matures. Establishing a position early in the development of what is potentially a high growth industry may lead to growing volumes for MCL even in the event market share remains relatively stable.
- (b) Export potential: Following the Australian government's decision in January 2018 to legalise the exports of medical cannabis, MCL has implemented a strategy to take advantage of government support. This will increase the addressable market of MCL products beyond Australia and increase the scale of potential revenues. As announced 8 January 2018, MCL is reviewing export options with CannTab, a producer of medical cannabis pain relief pills (CNSX:PILL).

7.11.2 Nutritional Hemp

- (a) Increasing sales volumes to match expanded production capacity: HHC has just completed a large production upgrade at its Queensland hulling facility. Organic growth is the most likely method to expand capacity when required given the modular nature of the machinery and the internal intellectual property built by management.
- (b) Export potential: MCL aims, in time, to have a global presence with sales in multiple geographies. In particular, Asian markets have shown strong demand interest for Australian produced health products and are likely to be targeted as export markets for the Company in the medium term.

- (c) New products: VitaHemp plans to bring new products to market in order to increase the number of revenue verticals, such as the intention to produce hemp milk in Australia.

7.11.3 Mining Division

- (a) New project opportunities: the company's mining division continues to research new projects and potential acquisition opportunities across a spectrum of commodity types. Such opportunities will enable the company to expand and diversify its current portfolio.
- (b) New sales opportunities: the company's marketing team continues to evaluate potential customer refineries for offtake of bauxite from its South Johnstone project.

7.12 Suspension and Re-admission to ASX

ASX has determined that the Acquisitions, if successfully completed, will represent a significant change in the nature and scale of the Company's current metals and mining activities.

The change in the nature and scale of the Company's activities will require the Company to re-comply with the admission requirements set out in Chapters 1 and 2 of the ASX Listing Rules.

The Company's Securities have been suspended from trading on the ASX since 14 September 2018, being the date of the general meeting held in connection with the Acquisitions and proposed change to the nature and scale of the Company's activities, and will remain suspended and not be reinstated to Official Quotation until the Company has re-complied with Chapters 1 and 2 of the ASX Listing Rules and is re-admitted by the ASX to the Official List.

Some of the key requirements of Chapters 1 and 2 of the Listing Rules are:

- (a) the Company must satisfy the shareholder spread requirements relating to the minimum number of Shareholders and the minimum value of the shareholdings of those Shareholders; and
- (b) the Company must satisfy the "assets test" as set out in ASX Listing Rule 1.3.

The Company expects that the conduct of the Offers pursuant to this Prospectus will enable the Company to satisfy the above requirements.

In the event that QBL does not receive Conditional Approval within three months after the date of this Prospectus, the Offers will not proceed, and no Shares will be issued pursuant to this Prospectus. If this occurs, the Company will repay all application monies received by it in connection with this Prospectus within the time prescribed under the Corporations Act, without interest.

7.13 Shareholder Approval of Acquisitions

At a general meeting of the Company held on 14 September 2018, Shareholders approved a number of resolutions to enable the Company to implement the Acquisitions, including (among other things):

As and when further funds are required, either for existing or future developments, the Company will consider both raising additional capital from the issue of Securities and/or from debt funding.

(b) Forecasts

The Directors have considered the matters set out in ASIC Regulatory Guide 170 and believe that they do not have a reasonable basis to forecast future earnings on the basis that the operations of the Company are still considered to be in the start-up phase of a new industry. Any forecast or projection information would contain such a broad range of potential outcomes and possibilities that it is not possible to prepare a reliable best estimate forecast or projection.

7.16 Dividend Policy

The Company intends to issue dividends when the Company begins to be operating at a material profit. As previously noted, given the early stage of the Company's operations, the Company cannot yet guarantee when that will occur, and how much dividends would be appropriate at that time.

Any future determination as to the payment of dividends by the Company will be at the discretion of the Board and will depend on the availability of distributable earnings and operating results and financial condition of the Company, future capital requirements and general business and other factors considered relevant by the Board. Explanation of certain non-IFRS financial measures

QBL uses certain measures to manage and report on its businesses that are not recognised under Australian Accounting Standards. These are known as "non-IFRS financial measures". Non-IFRS financial measures are intended to supplement the measures calculated in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards and not as a substitute for those measures. As these non-IFRS financial measures are not based on Australian Accounting Standards, they do not have standard definitions, and the way QBL calculates these measures may differ from similarly titled measures used by other companies.

In this document, QBL uses the following non-IFRS measures to assist prospective investors with understanding the trends in financial performance and profitability:

- EBITDA is earnings before interest, taxation, depreciation, amortisation, impairment charges and fair value adjustments;
- EBIT is earnings before interest and taxation;
- NLBT is net loss before tax; and
- NLAT is net loss after tax.

Although the Directors believe that these measures provide useful information about the financial performance and profitability of QBL, they should be considered as supplements to the income statement measures that have been presented in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards and not as a replacement for them. Investors should therefore not place undue reliance on these non-IFRS financial measures.

Acquisition of the remaining 45% interest in MCL (MCL Acquisition)

As set out in Section 14.3, QBL entered into the MCL Agreement under which it will acquire the remaining 45% of the issued capital of MCL it does not already hold. Consideration for the MCL Acquisition will be satisfied through the issue of 1,212,857,143 Shares in QBL. Based on a Share price of $0.035 per share, the fair value of the consideration of the MCL Offer is $42.45 million.

Acquisition of Medcan Australia Pty Ltd (Medcan Acquisition)

As set out in Section 14.2, QBL has entered into the Medcan Agreement. Under the agreement, QBL will acquire 100% of Medcan Shares and 100% of Medcan Units. Acquisition of a 55% interest in HHC (HHC Acquisition)

As set out in Section 14.4, QBL has entered into the HHC Agreement to acquire 55% of the issued capital of HHC in two stages.

Stage one: 25% was acquired for cash consideration of $300k and the issue of a 5% shareholding in Vitahemp Pty Ltd, a subsidiary of MCL. In November 2017, $145k of the cash consideration was paid to the shareholders of HHC. The remaining cash consideration was paid in April 2018. In February 2018, 5% of the issued capital in Vitahemp Pty Ltd was issued to Peter Edwards.

Stage two: the remaining 30% will be acquired through the issue of 40,540,541 QBL Shares at a fair value of $0.035 per Share, a total consideration of $1.42 million.

In addition, 5,410,000 QBL Shares will be issued to Sebastian Edwards and Sam Edwards at a fair value of $0.035 per Share. The Directors have determined that the T12 Acquisition represents an asset acquisition as T12 does not carry on a business as defined in AASB 3.

Affinity Energy Agreement

As set out in Section 14.6, in December 2017, QBL and MCL entered into an agreement with AEB whereby AEB will be granted a worldwide, exclusive and perpetual license for access to MCL's existing and future cultivators for the development of veterinary products. The consideration for this license included 50,000,000 AEB shares on execution of the agreement and a further 84,890,940 AEB shares on shareholder approval, giving QBL a 15% interest in AEB.

On 19 March 2018, the AEB shareholders approved the transaction and on 6 April 2018, a total of 134,890,940 AEB shares and 26,978,188 AEB options were issued to QBL. The Directors have determined the fair value of the income received from the issue to be $3.58 million based on a fair value for each AEB share of $0.025 and a fair value of each AEB option at $0.0076.

The fair value of the AEB options was determined using the Black Scholes model. Key inputs to the option valuation are:

Grant date	19.03.2018
Expiry date	31.12.2020
Options exercise price	$0.075
AEB share price	$0.025
Risk-free rate	2.10%

Conversion of convertible notes

In November 2017, QBL received conversion notices to convert $965k (USD$739k) of convertible notes to 75,007,754 Shares. QBL disputed the conversion notices, and as a result QBL was issued with a cash settlement notice in January 2018 of $2.2 million. The debt was subsequently settled through the issue of 50,000,000 QBL Shares. The fair value of the Shares at the date of issue was $2.47 million. Of the $2.47 million settlement, $1.6 million is recognised as a finance cost.

Issue of further convertible notes to L1 Capital Global Opportunities Master Fund

As set out in Section 14.9 on 22 August 2018, MCL issued an additional $500,000 in convertible notes to L1 and additional 4,642,858 options (based on the IPO price of $0.035). These notes and $600,000 in convertible notes issued by MCL prior to 31 December 2017 will be redeemed by QBL through the issue of convertible notes on substantially the same terms on completion of the Capital Raising. The options issued and a further 5,850,000 options issued by MCL prior to 31 December 2017 will be cancelled and an equivalent number of options in QBL will be issued on completion of the Capital Raising.

Payments under the TRDF Agreement

Subsequent to 31 December 2017, a total of $386,000 was paid in relation to the TRDF Agreement as set out in Section 14.8.

3. The Minimum Subscription represents the issue of 57,000,000 Shares at $0.035 per Share and 28,500,000 options to raise $1.995 million. Transaction costs of $646,000 will be incurred, of which $346,000 will be expensed and $300,000 will be recognised against equity. Transaction costs include 20,000,000 options to be issued to Empire. The Directors determined the fair value of the options to be granted to Empire to be $187,000.
4. The Maximum Subscription represents the issue of 170,000,000 Shares at $0.035 per Share and 85,000,000 Options to raise $5.950 million. Transaction costs of $757,000 will be incurred, of which $332,000 will be expensed and $425,000 will be recognised against equity. Transaction costs include 20,000,000 options to be issued to Empire. The Directors determined the fair value of the options to be granted to Empire to be $187,000. In addition, if the maximum raise is achieved Empire will receive $100,000 in shares.

8.8 Net debt

Set out below is QBL' indebtedness and pro forma cash position:

$000	Statutory	HY2018 Pro forma
		Minimum Subscription	Maximum Subscription
Cash & cash equivalents	8,925	10,671	14,626
Other liabilities	(2,208)	(1,354)	(1,354)
	6,717	9,317	13,272

8.9 Sources of liquidity

QBL's net cash position on completion of the Capital Raising Offer will be $9.3 million under the minimum subscription, and $13.2 million under the maximum subscription. Accordingly, the Directors consider that QBL will have sufficient working capital on completion of the Capital Raising Offer to carry out the entity's stated objectives.

8.10 Related Parties

The consolidated entity has related party relationships with its subsidiaries, key management personnel, and related companies due to common directorships, Pnina Feldman being a director of both QBL and the director related companies.

Related party transactions with Australian Gemstone Mining Pty Limited

The Company and Australian Gemstone Mining Pty Limited (AGMPL) are parties to a management services agreement (Management Services Agreement) dated 1 July 2007, for the provision by AGMPL of executive and corporate services, including geological and technical expertise, to the Company by the following executives:

- (a) Pnina Feldman – Executive Director, Business Development;

In respect of each of these executives, AGMPL was paid a retainer for the period ended 30 June 2017. The Company was also reimbursed for all reasonable expenses incurred by or on behalf of the above key persons.

AGMPL is a company owned and controlled by Pnina Feldman.

Pnina Feldman, Robert Coenraads and Sholom Feldman have each entered into an executive services agreement with AGMPL. Each of these executive services agreements contains standard provisions dealing with employment obligations and standard covenants dealing with general duties and the protection of AGMPL's interests. It mirrors the Management Services Agreement in respect of termination provisions. The executive directors do not receive separate directors' fees outside of the fees received by AGM for their services.

AGMPL also provide fully serviced offices to the Company, which includes the use of office space, the board room, kitchen, daily cleaning, and essential office infrastructure including telephones, fax, printer, broadband internet connections and suitable office furniture.

AGMPL also provided additional administrative services to the Company, such as secretarial, accounting and office management services. These services were provided to the Company by AGMPL on reasonable arm's length terms.

8.12 Dividend policy

For the Company to progress its business plan, significant funding is likely to be required. Due to this, the Company currently has no plans to declare any dividends this year.

Any future determination as to payment of dividends by the Company will be at the discretion of the Board and will be dependent on the availability of distributable earnings, the operating results and financial condition of the Company. Other factors such as future capital requirements and general business will also be considered relevant by the Board. No assurance in relation to the payment of dividends or franking credits attached to dividends can be given by the Company.

8.13 Significant accounting policies

The following significant accounting policies have been consistently applied in the preparation of the Financial Information.

(a) Basis of consolidation

Business combinations

The Company applies the acquisition method in accounting for business combinations. The consideration transferred by the Company to obtain control of a subsidiary is calculated as the sum of the acquisition-date fair value of assets transferred, liabilities incurred and the equity interests issued by the Company, which includes the fair value of any asset or liability arising from a contingent consideration arrangement. Acquisition costs are expensed as incurred.

The Company recognises identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed in a business combination regardless of whether they have been previously recognised in the acquiree's financial statements prior to the acquisition. Assets acquired and liabilities assumed are measured at their acquisition date fair values.

Goodwill is stated after separate recognition of identifiable intangible assets. It is calculated as the excess of the sum of: (a) fair value of consideration transferred (b) the recognised amount of any non-controlling interest in the acquiree; and (c) acquisition-date fair value of any existing equity interest in the acquiree, over the acquisition date fair values of identifiable net assets.

Subsidiaries

Subsidiaries are entities controlled by the Company. The financial statements of subsidiaries are included in the consolidated financial statements from the date that control commences until the date that control ceases.

Transactions eliminated on consolidation

Intra-group balances, and any unrealised income and expenses arising from intra-group transactions, are eliminated in preparation of the consolidated financial statements.

(b) Financial instruments

Non-derivative financial assets

The QBL Group initially recognizes loans and receivables on the date that they are originated. All other financial assets are recognised initially on the trade date at which the QBL Group becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

The QBL Group derecognizes a financial asset when the contractual rights to the cash flows on the financial asset in a transaction in which substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset are transferred. Any interest in transferred financial assets that is created or retained by the Company Group is recognised as a separate asset or liability.

The QBL Group has the following non-derivative financial assets: loans and receivables.

Loans and receivables

Loans and receivables are financial assets with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market. Such assets are recognised initially at fair value plus any directly attributable transaction costs. Subsequent to initial recognition loans and receivables are measured at amortised cost, less any impairment losses.

Non-derivative financial liabilities

The QBL Group initially recognizes debt securities issued on the date that they are originated. All other financial liabilities are recognised initially on the trade date, which is the date that the QBL Group becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

The QBL Group derecognizes a financial liability when its contractual obligations are discharged or cancelled or expire.

The QBL Group classifies the non-derivative financial liabilities into trade and other payables and other financial liabilities categories. Such financial liabilities are recognised initially at fair value less any directly attributable transaction costs. Subsequent to initial recognition, these financial liabilities are measured at amortised cost.

Other financial liabilities comprise trade and other payables and loans.

Share capital - Ordinary shares

Ordinary shares are classified as equity. Incremental costs directly attributable to the issue of ordinary shares and share options are recognised as a deduction from equity, net of any tax effects.

(c) Property, plant and equipment

Recognition and measurement

Items of property, plant and equipment are measured at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses.

Cost includes expenditures that are directly attributable to the acquisition of the asset. Purchased software that is integral to the functionality of the related equipment is capitalised as part of that equipment.

When parts of an item of property, plant and equipment have different useful lives, they are accounted for as separate items (major components) of property, plant and equipment.

Subsequent costs

Subsequent expenditure is capitalised only when it is probable that the future economic benefits associated with the expenditure will flow to the QBL Group. Ongoing repairs and maintenance is expensed as incurred.

Depreciation

Items of property, plant and equipment are depreciated on a straight-line basis in profit and loss over the estimated useful lives of each component. Items of property, plant and equipment are depreciated from the date that they are installed and are ready for use.

The estimated useful lives for the current and comparative years of significant items of property, plant and equipment are as follows:

Equipment: 10 years

Depreciation methods, useful lives and residual values are reviewed at each reporting date and adjusted if appropriate.

(d) Exploration and evaluation expenditure

Exploration and evaluation expenditure, including the costs of acquiring the licences, are capitalised as exploration and evaluation assets on an area of interest basis. Costs incurred before the Company has obtained the legal rights to explore an area are recognised in the statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income.

Exploration and evaluation assets are only recognised if the rights of the area of interest are current and either:

- the expenditures are expected to be recouped through successful development and exploitation or from sale of the area of interest; or
- activities in the area of interest have not, at the reporting date, reached a stage which permits a reasonable assessment of the existence or otherwise of economically recoverable reserves, and active and significant operations in, or in relation to, the area of interest are continuing.

Exploration and evaluation assets are assessed for impairment if (i) sufficient data exists to determine technical feasibility and commercial viability, and (ii) facts and circumstances suggest that the carrying amount exceeds the recoverable amount (see impairment accounting policy (e)). For the purposes of impairment testing, exploration and evaluation assets are allocated to cash-generating units to which the exploration activity relates. The cash generating unit shall not be larger than the area of interest.

Once the technical feasibility and commercial viability of the extraction of mineral resources in an area of interest are finalised, exploration and evaluation assets attributable to that area of interest are first tested for impairment and then reclassified to mining property and development assets within property, plant and equipment.

When an area of interest is abandoned or the directors decide that it is not commercial, any accumulated costs in respect of that area are written off in the financial period the decision is made.

(e) Goodwill

Goodwill represents the future economic benefits arising from a business combination that are not individually identified and separately recognised. Refer to note 9.13a for information on how goodwill is initially determined. Goodwill is carried at cost less accumulated impairment losses. Refer to Note 9.13g for a description of impairment procedures.

(f) Other intangible assets

Acquired intangible assets

Seedbank and plant genetics acquired in a business combination that qualify for separate recognition are recognised as intangible assets at their fair values (refer Note 9.13a).

Subsequent measurement

All intangible assets are accounted for using the cost model whereby capitalised costs are amortised on a straight line basis over their estimated useful lives as these assets are considered finite. Residual values and useful lives are reviewed at each reporting date. In addition, they are subject to impairment testing as described in Note 9.13g.

Amortisation of seedbank and plant genetics has not yet commenced as the asset was recently purchased.

The following useful lives are applied:

Seedbank and plant genetics: 20 years

(g) Impairment

Non-derivative financial assets

A financial asset is impaired if there is objective evidence of impairment as a result of one or more events that occurred after the initial recognition of the asset, and that the loss event(s) had an impact on the estimated future cash flows of that asset that can be estimated reliably.

Objective evidence that financial assets are impaired includes default or delinquency by a debtor. The QBL Group considers evidence of impairment for financial assets at a specific asset level.

An impairment loss in respect of a financial asset measured at amortised cost is calculated as the difference between its carrying amount and the present value of the estimated future cash flows discounted at the original effective interest rate. Losses are recognised in profit and loss and reflected in an allowance account against loans and receivables.

Non-financial assets

The carrying amounts of the QBL Group's non-financial assets are reviewed at each reporting date to determine whether there is any indication of impairment. If any such indication exists, then the asset's recoverable amount is estimated. An impairment loss is recognised if the carrying amount of an asset or its related cash-generating unit exceeds its recoverable amount. A cash-generating unit is the smallest identifiable asset group that generates cash flows that largely are independent from other assets and groups.

The recoverable amount of an asset or cash-generating unit is the greater of its value in use and its fair value less costs to sell. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset.

Impairment losses are recognised in the profit or loss.

An impairment loss is reversed only to the extent that the asset's carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined, net of depreciation or amortization, if no impairment loss had been recognised.

(h) Inventory

Inventory is stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value.

(i) Revenue

Revenue is recognised at the fair value of consideration received or receivable. Revenue is recognised at the point in time that sales or service performance has been completed.

Interest

Interest revenue is recognised as interest accrues using the effective interest method. The effective interest method uses the effective interest rate, which is the rate that exactly discounts the estimated future cash receipts over the expected life of the financial asset.

(j) Finance income and finance costs

Finance income comprises interest income on funds invested. Interest income is recognised as it accrues, using the effective interest method.

Finance costs comprise interest expense and other costs of borrowings. All finance costs are recognised in profit or loss using the effective interest method.

Dear Sirs/Madams

Investigating Accountant's Report and Financial Services Guide

We have been engaged by Queensland Bauxite Limited ("QBL") to prepare this report for inclusion in the prospectus to be issued by the Company (the "Prospectus") in respect of the public offering of ordinary shares (the "Capital Raising Offer") and reinstatement of the Company to trading on the Australian Securities Exchange.

Expressions and terms defined in the Prospectus have the same meaning in this report.

Nexia Sydney Corporate Advisory Pty Ltd holds the appropriate Australian Financial Services License under the Corporations Act 2001 for the issue of this report.

Scope

Nexia Sydney Corporate Advisory Pty Ltd has been engaged to review the:

- pro forma historical income statements for FY2016, FY2017 and HY2018;
- pro forma historical statements of cash flows for FY2016, FY2017 and HY2018; and
- pro forma statement of financial position as at 31 December 2017.

(together the "Pro Forma Historical Financial Information")

The Pro Forma Historical Financial Information has been derived from the statutory historical financial information of the Company, after adjusting for the effects of pro forma adjustments described in Section 8.2 of the Prospectus.

The statutory historical financial information has been prepared in accordance with the stated basis of preparation, being the recognition and measurement principles contained in Australian Accounting Standards and the Company's adopted accounting policies.

The statutory historical financial information has been extracted from the financial report of the Company for which was audited by Nexia Sydney Partnership for the FY2016 and FY2017 and reviewed by Nexia Sydney Partnership for HY2018. Each of the audit opinions and the review opinion was unmodified.

The historical financial information is presented in the Prospectus in an abbreviated form, insofar as it does not include all of the presentation and disclosures required by Australian Accounting Standards and other mandatory professional reporting requirements applicable to general purpose financial reports prepared in accordance with the Corporations Act 2001.

The stated basis of preparation for the Pro Forma Historical Information is the recognition and measurement principles contained in Australian Accounting Standards applied to the statutory historical financial information and the events or transactions to which the pro forma adjustments relate, as described in Section 8.3 of the Prospectus, as if those events or transactions had occurred as at the date of the statutory historical financial information. Due to its nature, the Pro Forma Historical Financial Information does not represent the Company's actual or prospective financial performance, cash flows or financial position.

Directors' responsibility

The Directors of the Company are responsible for the preparation of the Historical Financial Information and Pro Forma Historical Financial Information, including the selection and determination of pro forma adjustments made to the Historical Financial Information and included in the Pro Forma Historical Financial Information;

This includes responsibility for such internal controls as the Directors determine are necessary to enable the preparation of Historical Financial Information and Pro Forma Historical Financial Information that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Our responsibility

Our responsibility is to express a limited assurance conclusion, based on our review, on the Pro Forma Historical Financial Information.

We have conducted our engagement in accordance with the Standard on Assurance Engagement ASAE 3450 Assurance Engagements involving Corporate Fundraisings and/or Prospective Financial Information.

A review consists of making enquiries, primarily of persons responsible for financial and accounting matters, and applying analytical and other review procedures. A review is substantially less in scope than an audit conducted in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards and consequently does not enable us to obtain reasonable assurance that we would become aware of all significant matters that might be identified in an audit. Accordingly, we do not express an audit opinion.

Our engagement did not involve updating or re-issuing any previously issued audit or review report on any financial information used as a source of the financial information.

Conclusions

Based on our review, which is not an audit, nothing has come to our attention that causes us to believe that the Pro Forma Historical Financial Information is not presented fairly in all material respects, in accordance with the stated basis of preparation as described in Section 8 of the Prospectus.

Restriction on Use

Without modifying our conclusions, we draw attention to Section 8 of the Prospectus, which describes the purpose of the Financial Information, being for inclusion in the Prospectus. As a result, the Investigating Accountant's Report may not be suitable for use for another purpose.

Nexia Sydney Corporate Advisory Pty Ltd has consented to the inclusion of this limited assurance report in the Prospectus in the form and context in which it is included.

Declaration of Interest

Nexia Sydney Corporate Advisory does not have any interest in the outcome of the Capital Raising Offer other than the preparation of this report for which normal professional fees will be received.

Nexia Sydney Audit Pty Ltd a related entity to Nexia Sydney Corporate Advisory is the current auditor for the Company. This report has been prepared independently to any work carried out as auditor by Nexia Sydney Audit Pty Ltd.

Yours faithfully,

This opinion has been prepared on the assumption that the Acquisitions will be completed resulting in Medcan, Medcan Trust and MCL being wholly owned by the Company (referred to herein as "the QBL Group").

You have asked for our opinion on the following questions:

Question 1

What is the status of the licences and approvals held by the QBL Group?

Executive Summary

Following the Acquisitions, QBL Group, through its 100% ownership of the Medcan Trust, will hold:

- an ODC Production Licence issued under the ND Act that is valid until 30 June 2019 which will enable it to cultivate cannabis plants and produce cannabis or cannabis resin, subject to it obtaining a medicinal cannabis permit under that Act;

- an import licence and an export licence issued under the CPI Regs which will enable it to import and export various cannabis products subject to issue of a specific permit;
- in conjunction with the import licence referred to above, a permit to import cannabis seeds from Canada for sowing by multiple consignments any time between 25 July 2018 and 25 July 2019;
- an approval in Qld under HDPR to obtain, possess and use cannabis seeds comprising vials of 10,000 seeds.

Question 2

Does the QBL Group require any further licences to carry out the proposed activities of growing and cultivating hemp and medicinal cannabis products in Australia?

Executive Summary

Yes.

In relation to medicinal cannabis, in addition to the ODC Production Licence, the QBL Group will also require a medicinal cannabis permit under the ND Act.

In addition, to the extent that the QBL Group is operating in any of the following States, it will also require:

- (a) in Qld, an approval to manufacture and wholesale medicinal cannabis under the PHMC Act and PHMC Regs;
- (b) in NSW, a licence or authority to manufacture a medicinal cannabis product under the PTG Regs;
- (c) in Victoria, a manufacturing and/or research licence under the AMC Act;
- (d) in Tasmania a licence to manufacture a cannabis product under the PA.

Even though under the FSANZ Code, the sale of food produced from low THC plants is permitted, nevertheless in order for the QBL Group to comply with the legal and regulatory requirements in relation to growing and cultivating industrial hemp to the extent that it is operating in any of the following States, it will need to hold:

- (a) in Qld, a licence under Part 5B of the DM Act;
- (b) in NSW, a licence under the HIA Act and HI Regs;
- (c) in Victoria, an authority under the DP & CS Act;
- (d) in Tasmania, a licence under the IHA.

Question 3

Based on the responses to Questions 1 and 2:

- (a) does the QBL Group have the legal right to operate its intended business and expend its funds in accordance with the proposed use of funds as described in the Prospectus; and
- (b) are there any legal impediments to the QBL Group carrying out its proposed operations in Australia as described in the Prospectus.

Executive Summary

Subject to the QBL Group obtaining the additional required licences, permits and approvals as set out in this opinion, and subject to the qualifications and assumptions as set out below, the QBL Group has the legal right to operate its intended business in Australia and there should be:

- (a) no regulatory impediments to the QBL Group expending its funds in accordance with the proposed use of funds as described in the Prospectus; and
- (b) no legal impediments to the QBL Group carrying out its proposed operations in Australia as described in the Prospectus.

Detailed Advice

Government regulation of medicinal cannabis

There are a number of general prohibitions on the importing, growing and use of cannabis in Australia. However the Commonwealth of Australia and a number of States and Territories have relaxed these general prohibitions and have instituted various licensing regimes to enable this to occur.

In this advice we will only refer to the regulatory requirements of the Commonwealth of Australia and the States of Qld, NSW, Victoria and Tasmania because we are instructed that the Company will only be operating in those States for the foreseeable future.

The regulation of the importing, growing and use of cannabis in Australia is governed by specific legislation of the Commonwealth of Australia and also each State and Territory of Australia.

In general terms, the Commonwealth Government has sole responsibility for regulating the cultivation and production aspects of cannabis for medicinal and related scientific purposes but the manufacture of, and patient access to, medicinal cannabis products is a joint responsibility of the Commonwealth Government and the State and Territory Governments.

This means that relevant licences or approvals are required under both Commonwealth and State and Territory legislation detailed below.

2. Commonwealth of Australia

2.1 Narcotic Drugs Act 1967 ("ND Act")

Part 2 of the ND Act provides for the issue of two (2) types of cannabis licence, a medicinal cannabis licence ("ODC Production Licence") and a cannabis research licence ("ODC Research Licence").

An ODC Production Licence may authorise:

- (a) the cultivation of cannabis plants for producing cannabis or cannabis resin for medicinal purposes and the obtaining of cannabis plants for that purpose; or
- (b) the production of cannabis or cannabis resin for medicinal purposes; or
- (c) all of the above;

and activities related to such cultivation, obtaining or production.

An ODC Research Licence may authorise:

- (d) the cultivation of cannabis plants for producing cannabis or cannabis resin for research relating to medicinal cannabis and the obtaining of cannabis plants for that purpose; or
- (e) the production of cannabis or cannabis resin for research relating to medicinal cannabis; or
- (f) all of the above;

and activities related to such cultivation, obtaining or production.

However before a licence holder can cultivate cannabis plants, or produce cannabis or cannabis resin, the licence holder must obtain a cannabis permit. The permit deals with matters such as the types of cannabis plants that can be cultivated and the quantities of cannabis and cannabis resin that can be produced. An application for this permit will need to be obtained before commencement of the cultivation of the cannabis plants.

Certain conditions are imposed on all cannabis licences, and the Secretary may impose additional conditions. Cannabis licences and cannabis permits can be varied or revoked in certain circumstances. Division 3 of Part 2 of the ND Act sets out the conditions that apply to both forms of cannabis licences.

An application may also be made under Chapter 3 of the ND Act for a manufacture licence ("ML") which authorises the manufacture of a drug and activities related to such manufacture, including manufacture for the purposes of research relating to medicinal cannabis products. An application for an ML will only be required to be made prior to the commencement by the Company of the manufacture of medicinal cannabis products.

2.2 Customs Act, 1901 and the Customs (Prohibited Imports Regulations) 1956 (Cth) ("CPI Regs")

This legislation contains provisions dealing with the import and export of cannabis for medical and scientific purposes.

A person who wishes to import cannabis to Australia such as cannabis seeds in order to cultivate the same pursuant to a licence granted to that person under the ND Act will require an import licence to do so. Otherwise it would be an offence to do so.

The person may also need an export licence from the country of origin depending on the law of that place.

2.3 Therapeutic Goods Act 1989 ("TG Act") and Therapeutic Goods Regulations 1990 ("TG Regs")

The TG Act provides for a register to be maintained for the purpose of compiling information in relation to, and providing for evaluation of, therapeutic goods for use in humans called the Australian Register of Therapeutic Goods ("ARTG"). The ARTG is administered by the Department of Health Therapeutic Goods Administration ("TGA").

Medicinal cannabis products are regulated as medicines in Australia. Generally, medicines imported into, supplied in, and exported from Australia must be entered in the ARTG. However all medicinal cannabis products whether approved or not approved which are imported into, supplied in or manufactured in Australia must conform with Therapeutic Goods Order No. 93 (Standard for Medicinal Cannabis) ("TGO 93") which sets out certain standards that must be met.

Access to medicinal cannabis products, even if not on the ARTG, may also be obtained through the licensing system under the ND Act referred to above, which is designed to make available medicinal cannabis products which provisions work together with the therapeutic goods legislation and State and Territory legislation to make medicinal cannabis products available to certain patients.

Part 6-3 of the TG Act provides the basis for a uniform system in Australia of access controls for goods containing scheduled substances. The scheduling of substances controls how medicines and poisons are made available to the public. It allows restrictions to be placed on their supply to the public in the interests of public health and safety. This is aimed at minimising the risks of poisoning from, and the misuse and abuse of, scheduled substances. Medicines and poisons are classified into Schedules according to the level of regulatory control over the availability of the medicine or poison, required to protect public health and safety. The Schedules are published in the Standard for the Uniform Scheduling of Medicines and Poisons ("SUSMP") and are given legal effect through State and Territory legislation. The SUSMP is legally referred to as the "Poisons Standard". This consists of decisions regarding the classification of medicines and poisons into Schedules for inclusion in the relevant legislation of the States and Territories. Subject to certain exceptions, cannabis that is:

To: Queensland Bauxite Limited

Our Ref: AJ

- cultivated or produced, or in products manufactured, in accordance with the ND Act; and/or,
- for use in products manufactured in accordance with the ND Act; and/or,
- imported as therapeutic goods, or for use in therapeutic goods, for supply, in accordance with the TG Act; and/or,
- in therapeutic goods supplied in accordance with the TG Act, is a controlled drug under this standard.

Therefore medicinal cannabis can be prescribed under these provisions provided that the particular State or Territory permits this to be done.

2.4 Crimes (Traffic in Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substances) Act, 1990 ("CTND Act")

Cannabis, Cannabis Oil and Cannabis Resin are narcotic drugs listed in Schedule 2 of the CTND Act. There are various offences in relation to dealing in such narcotic drugs and possessing equipment to produce the same.

However this Act is not intended to exclude or limit the operation of any other law of the Commonwealth or any law of a State or Territory. Therefore any action authorised under a licence granted to a person under the ND Act will not be an offence under the CTFN Act.

2.5 Criminal Code Act, 1995 ("CC Act")

There are various offences in relation to the trafficking, importing, exporting, the manufacture, cultivation or possession of cannabis in any form.

However a person is not criminally responsible for an offence if the conduct constituting the offence is justified or excused by or under a law. Therefore any act done pursuant to a licence granted to a person under the ND Act will not be an offence under the CC Act.

3. Queensland

3.1 Public Health (Medicinal Cannabis) Act, 2016 (Qld) ("PHMC Act") and Public Health (Medicinal Cannabis) Regulation, 2017 ("PHMC Regs")

The PHMC Act provides a regulatory framework to allow medicinal cannabis products to be prescribed and dispensed to patients in Queensland and prevent unauthorised use of these products. Any cannabis used outside of the regulatory framework is illegal.

The PHMC Regs contain provisions to enable applications to be made for approval to manufacture and/or wholesale medicinal cannabis products ("PHMC Approval"). However a manufacturing approval does not, of itself, grant the manufacturer authority to manufacture medicinal cannabis under the PHMC Act. A licence to manufacture under the Commonwealth ND Act will also be required (see paragraph 2.1 above).

3.2 Health (Drugs and Poisons) Regulation, 1996 ("HDPR")

Cannabis is a prohibited substance under HDPR. However the HDPR enables the Chief Executive of Queensland Health to approve the use of cannabis products for a clinical trial.

3.3 Drugs Misuse Act, 1986 ("DM Act") and Drugs Misuse Regulation 1987 ("DM Regs")

It is an offence to produce, possess and supply cannabis without authorisation, justification or lawful excuse. However holding an authority under the PHMC Act means that the holder will not be committing an offence.

Part 5B of this Act also has provisions to facilitate the supply of industrial cannabis seed to people who hold cannabis research licences or medicinal cannabis licences under the ND Act to use as allowed under that Act so that it is not an offence to do so under the DM Act.

The DM Act provides for the issue of two types of research licences and a grower licence. The research licences will enable the holder to possess for research purposes certain types of cannabis plants and seed, to produce, for use in plant breeding programs for developing new commercial strains, supplying certain types of cannabis to certain researchers such as holders of a research licence under the ND Act etc. The grower licence will enable the grower to possess certain cannabis plants and seeds for certain purposes including the supply of certain cannabis seed to holders of a research licence under the ND Act etc.

4. NSW

4.1 Poisons and Therapeutic Goods Act, 2008 ("PTG Act") and Poisons and Therapeutic Goods Regulations, 2008 ("PTG Regs")

A person will be able to manufacture a medicinal cannabis product in NSW if it holds a licence or authority under Part 8 of the PTG Regs authorising the manufacture of that product.

Further a person will be able to supply a medicinal cannabis product in NSW if the product has been lawfully imported into or manufactured in Australia (i.e. under a Commonwealth licence or an approval, to which see the above requirements under the ND Act and CC Act) and either:

- the person to whom the product is supplied is a medical practitioner and the product is supplied for the treatment of patients of the medical practitioner (including patients in a clinical trial), or
- the person supplying the product is a medical practitioner and the product is supplied for the treatment of a patient of the practitioner (including a patient in a clinical trial), or
- the person to whom the product is supplied is a pharmacist and the product is supplied for the purposes of the pharmacist supplying the product on the prescription of a medical practitioner, or
- the person supplying the product is a pharmacist and the product is supplied on the prescription of a medical practitioner, or
- the product is supplied for the purposes of a clinical trial and the person responsible for the conduct of the trial holds a licence or authority under Part 8 of the Poisons Regs, or under the Drug Misuse and Trafficking Act 1985, authorising the use of the product in the trial, or
- the product is supplied for the treatment of a particular patient and the supply is authorised by a licence or authority under Part 8 of the Poisons Regs.

4.2 Drugs Misuse and Trafficking Act, 1985 ("DMT Act")

The offences under this Act are subject to a general qualification that nothing in the DMT Act affects any provision made by or under the PTG Act (see above) or renders unlawful anything done in accordance with such a provision.

There are also various offences where it is also made clear that nothing in the relevant section imposing the offence renders unlawful the doing of that thing under the PTG Act e.g. supply, possession, manufacture and production of cannabis and possession of a precursor or drug manufacture apparatus.

5. Victoria

5.1 Access to Medicinal Cannabis Act, 2016 ("AMC Act")

The AMC Act has a licensing system in conjunction with the licensing under the Commonwealth ND Act. There are two forms of licence, a manufacturing research licence and a general manufacturing licence. A requirement to be issued with these licences is that the person also be licensed under the Commonwealth ND Act.

5.2 Drugs, Poisons and Controlled Substances Act, 1981 ("DP&CS Act")

There are various offences in relation to the cultivation, possession and supply of cannabis. However it will not be an offence where this is authorised under the AMC Act.

6. Tasmania

6.1 Poisons Act, 1971 ("PA")

A person is permitted to make, refine or prepare a cannabis product if that person is acting as a servant or under orders of another person who is the holder of a licence to manufacture the substance under that Act or the ND Act and is also a holder of a licence under the ND Act.

6.2 Poisons Regulations, 2008 ("PR")

It is an offence for a medical practitioner to issue a prescription to supply cannabis without the authority of the Secretary. Thus medical cannabis can be supplied by a medical practitioner with authority of the Secretary.

6.3 Misuse of Drugs Act, 2001 ("MODA")

There are various offences in relation to the cultivation, possession and supply of cannabis. However anything authorised under the Industrial Hemp Act, 2015 ("IHA") (see below) or PA is not unlawful under this Act.

Medicinal Cannabis Licences and Permits held by QBL Group

Following the Acquisitions, QBL Group will hold, through its 100% ownership of the Medcan Trust, an ODC Production Licence, being MC013/17 Licence Reference 8ZQCSPJC, issued to the Medcan Trust under the ND Act by the Department of Health Office of Drug Control (Clth) ("ODC") which is valid from 1 July 2018 to 30 June 2019. This ODC Production Licence authorises Medcan Trust to undertake the following activities:

- (a) the cultivation of cannabis plants, in accordance with one or more medicinal cannabis permits, for the purpose of producing cannabis or cannabis resin for medicinal purposes;

To: Queensland Bauxite Limited
Date: 18 September 2018
Our Ref: AJ
Page: 10

- (b) the production of cannabis or cannabis resin for medicinal purposes, in accordance with one or more medicinal cannabis permits;
- (c) activities relating to such obtaining, cultivation or production, including but not limited to the following:
 - (1) the obtaining of cannabis plants for the purpose of such cultivation;
 - (2) the packaging, transport, storage, possession, testing and control of cannabis plants, cannabis or cannabis resin;
 - (3) the supply of cannabis plants, cannabis or cannabis resin to certain nominated entities; and
 - (4) the disposal or destruction of cannabis plants, cannabis or cannabis resin.

However these activities are only authorised to the extent prescribed in a valid permit issued by the ODC. Therefore before Medcan Trust can cultivate cannabis plants, or produce cannabis or cannabis resin for medicinal purposes pursuant to the ODC Production Licence, it must obtain a medicinal cannabis permit. An application for the permit will need to be made before the activities permitted under the ODS Production Licence commences.

Following the Acquisitions, QBL Group will hold, through its 100% ownership of the Medcan Trust, a Licence to Import No. 1820738 and a Licence to Export No 1820739 which will enable it to import and export certain cannabis products subject to individual permit being granted. In association with this Licence to Import, a valid permit is held for multiple consignments between 25 July, 2018 and 25 July 2019 to import cannabis seeds from Canada for sowing.

Following the Acquisitions, QBL Group will hold, through its 100% ownership of the Medcan Trust, an approval under the HDPR to obtain, possess and use cannabis seeds comprising vials of 10,000 seeds.

However in addition the above licences, the QBL Group will also require:

- (a) a medicinal cannabis permit under the ND Act in order for the ODC Production Licence to be operative;
- (b) in Qld, an approval to manufacture and wholesale medicinal cannabis under the PHMC Act and regulations;
- (c) in NSW, a licence or authority to manufacture a medicinal cannabis product under the PTG Regs;
- (d) in Victoria, a manufacturing and/or research licence under the AMC Act;
- (e) in Tasmania a licence to manufacture a cannabis product under the PA.

Government regulation of industrial hemp industry

The laws in relation to industrial hemp are not as restrictive as medicinal cannabis because it is produced from cannabis plants with a low tetrahydrocannabinol ("THC") content being less than 1% THC in the leaves, flowers and stems. It therefore provides no psychotropic effect from its consumption. In fact industrial hemp has different properties to medicinal cannabis and is used in a wide variety of products such as carpeting, insulation, cement and paint.

In this advice we will only refer to the regulatory requirements of the Commonwealth of Australia and the States of Qld, NSW, Victoria and Tasmania because we are instructed that the Company will only be operating in those States for the foreseeable future.

Pursuant to Food Standards Australia and New Zealand Code ("FSANZ Code"), food produced from low THC is permitted to be sold in Australia and New Zealand.

The following substances may therefore be imported without permission under the CPI Regs: hulled hemp seeds, hemp seed meal, hemp fibre and hemp seed oil if the total cannabidiol content is 75mg/kg or less and the total THC content is 50mg/kg or less. The following products may also be imported without permission under the CPI Regs: products that contain hulled hemp seeds, derived from hems and/or hemp seed oil provided that they do not contain another drug, they do not contain any part (or extracts) of the cannabis/hemp plant (excluding extracts made from hemp seeds), the total cannabidiol content is 75mg/kg or less and the total THC content is 50mg/kg or less.

However the States and Territories still regulate the growing of the industrial hemp from which this food is produced.

7. Qld

7.1 DM Act and DM Regs

Under the DM Act and DM Regs industrial hemp plants must not have THC levels exceeding 0.1% and must be grown from seed certified to produce plants with no more than 0.5% THC. They may also not be grown without a licence.

There is a system of licensing under Part 5B of the DM Act which also applies to industrial cannabis to which see the discussion in paragraph 3.2 above relating to medical cannabis. The object of this Part 5B is stated as being to facilitate:

- the processing and marketing of, and trade in, industrial cannabis fibre and fibre products; and,
- the processing and marketing of, and trade in, industrial cannabis seed and seed products for purposes that do not include, directly or indirectly, producing anything for administration to, or consumption or smoking by, a person.

To: Queensland Bauxite Limited
Date: 18 September 2018
Our Ref: AJ
Page: 12

These provisions mean that the production, possession and supply of industrial cannabis plants and seed pursuant to these authorisations will not be an offence.

8. NSW

8.1 Hemp Industry Act, 2008 ("HI Act") and Hemp Industry Regulations, 2016 ("HI Regs")

This Act together with the regulations provides for a licensing system for cultivation and supply of low-THC hemp which is any plant of the genus cannabis, by whatever name that plant may be called, that has a concentration of THC in its leaves and flowering heads of no more than 1%, and includes the seed of any such plant and any product (such as oil or fibre) derived from any such plant. The licence may be granted for any one or more of the following purposes:

- commercial production,
- use in any manufacturing process,
- scientific research, instruction, analysis or study,
- any other purpose prescribed by the regulations.

8.2 DMT Act

The offences under this Act are subject to a general qualification that nothing in the DMT Act affects any provision made by or under the HI Act (see above) or renders unlawful anything done in accordance with such a provision. Therefore a person will not be committing an offence if authorised to do so under the HI Act.

9. Victoria

9.1 DP&CS Act

This Act does not apply to:

- a processed fibre product made from cannabis if the product does not contain more than 0.1 % of THC, does not contain whole cannabis seeds and is in a form not suitable for ingestion, smoking or inhaling purposes; or
- a processed product made from cannabis seeds if the product does not contain more than 0.001% of THC and does not contain whole cannabis seeds.

To: Queensland Bauxite Limited
Date: 18 September 2018
Our Ref: AJ

Therefore the offences that relate to the cultivation, possession and supply of cannabis under this Act do not apply to the above.

In addition an authority may be obtained under this Act to enable a person for commercial or research purposes relating to non-therapeutic use:

- to possess, process, sell or supply cannabis seed which has been harvested from low-THC cannabis; or
- to cultivate and possess cannabis from seed which has been harvested from low-THC cannabis; or
- to possess, process, sell or supply cannabis which is substantially free of leaves and flowering heads and does not contain THC in excess of 0.1%.

Low-THC is cannabis, the leaves and flowering heads of which do not contain more than 0.35% of THC.

The holding of such an authority means that anything done under that authority will not constitute an offence.

10. Tasmania

10.1 IHA

This Act provides for a system of licensing with respect to industrial hemp. There are two types of licence. Firstly an industrial hemp licence may be obtained which may authorise a person to possess, cultivate or supply industrial hemp for any one or more of the following purposes specified in the licence:

- commercial production;
- use in any manufacturing process;
- food production;
- scientific research, instruction, analysis or study;
- any other purpose approved by the Secretary.

Secondly a special licence may be obtained which may authorise a person to possess, cultivate or supply hemp, that is not industrial hemp, for the purpose of scientific research, instruction, analysis or study.

Industrial Hemp Licences and Permits held by QBL Group

We are instructed that MCL was a party to an Asset Purchase Agreement dated 2 April, 2015 ("APA"), pursuant to which a Mr Andrew Kavasilas was required to transfer to MCL a licence held by him under the HI Act and HI Regs that authorised him under that Act to:

To: Queensland Bauxite Limited
Date: 18 September 2018
Our Ref: AJ
Page: 14

- cultivate low-THC hemp for commercial production and for manufacturing process;
- supply low-THC hemp for commercial production and for manufacturing process.

This licence is in force until 3 December 2018.

We are instructed that this licence has not been transferred to the Company pursuant to s. 14 of the HI Act so we will assume that it is still in the name of Mr Andrew Kavasilas. If it has not been transferred to MCL then the licence must be held on trust for MCL until transferred by reason of the obligation on him to transfer it pursuant to the APA.

However notwithstanding the above, this licence does not automatically extend to MCL. In order for the QBL Group to obtain the benefit of this licence through its 100% ownership of MCL following the Acquisitions, it will be necessary for a transfer of the same to be effected from Mr Andrew Kavasilas to MCL. This may be done by way of a joint application which application will be treated as if MCL was making a new application.

Therefore MCL will need to attend to getting this licence transferred to it under the HI Act and HI Regs in order to obtain the benefit of the same.

We have not been provided with any further information concerning any other licences issued to any member of the QBL Group in relation to the growing and cultivation of industrial hemp.

Therefore in order for the QBL Group to comply with the legal and regulatory requirements in relation to growing and cultivating industrial hemp it will require:

- (a) in Qld, a licence under Part 5B of the DM Act;
- (b) in NSW, a licence under the HIA Act and HI Regs;
- (c) in Victoria, an authority under the DP & CS Act;
- (d) in Tasmania, a licence under the IHA.

This is the case even though under the FSANZ Code, the sale of food produced from low THC plants is permitted.

Conclusion

Subject to the QBL Group obtaining the additional required licences and approvals as set out in this opinion, and subject to the qualifications and assumptions as set out in section [insert], the QBL Group has the legal right to operate its intended business in Australia and there should be:

- (a) no regulatory impediments to the QBL Group expending its funds in accordance with the proposed use of funds as described in the Prospectus; and
- (b) no legal impediments to the QBL Group carrying out its proposed operations in Australia as described in the Prospectus.

Yours faithfully
Piper Alderman

11. RISK FACTORS

The business, assets and operations of the Company, including after completion of the Acquisitions, are subject to certain risk factors that have the potential to influence the operating and financial performance of the Company in the future. These risks can impact on the value of an investment in the securities of the Company.

The Board aims to manage these risks by carefully planning its activities and implementing risk control measures. Some of the risks are, however, highly unpredictable and the extent to which the Board can effectively manage them is limited.

Set out below are specific risks that the Company is exposed to. Shareholders should be aware that when the Acquisitions are completed, the Company will be changing the nature and scale of its activities and will be subject to additional or increased risks arising from Medcan and MCL, parties contracted or associated with Medcan and MCL and other agreements, including, but not limited to, those summarised in Section 14 of this Prospectus.

The risks and uncertainties described below are not intended to be exhaustive. The summary of risks that follows is not intended to be exhaustive and this Prospectus does not take into account the personal circumstances, financial position or investment requirements of any particular person. There may be additional risks and uncertainties that the Company is unaware of or that the Company currently considers to be immaterial, which may affect the Company, Medcan and MCL and their related entities and consequently Applicants. Based on the information available, a non-exhaustive list of risk factors for the Company associated with the Company's proposal to undertake the Acquisitions is as follows.

11.1 Risks relating to the Change in Nature and Scale of Activities

(a) Completion Risk

The Company has agreed to acquire 100% of Medcan and MCL, completion of which is subject to the fulfilment of certain conditions. There is a risk that the conditions for completion of the Acquisitions cannot be fulfilled and, in turn, that completion of the Acquisitions does not occur.

If the Acquisitions are not completed, the Company will incur costs relating to advisors and other costs without any material benefit being achieved.

(b) Re-quotation of shares on ASX

As part of the Company's change in nature and scale of activities, ASX will require the Company to re-comply with Chapters 1 and 2 of the ASX Listing Rules. The Company's securities have been suspended from 14 September 2018, being the date of the general meeting convened to seek Shareholder approval for (among other things) the Medcan and MCL Acquisitions, until completion of those transactions, the Capital Raising, re-compliance by the Company with Chapters 1 and 2 of the ASX Listing Rules and compliance with any further conditions ASX imposes on such reinstatement.

There is a risk that the Company will not be able to satisfy one or more of those requirements and that its securities will consequently remain suspended from official quotation. The Company however, following the recent detailed discussions with the ASX surrounding the Acquisitions and QBL's re-compliance obligations, at the moment sees no reason why the Company should not be able to re-comply according with these conditions.

(c) Dilution Risk

The Company currently has 1,612,435,425 Shares on issue. On completion of the Acquisitions, the Company proposes to issue the 250,000,000 Shares to Medcan Securityholders in consideration for the Medcan Acquisition and 1,212,857,143 Shares to MCL Shareholders in consideration for the MCL Acquisition.

The Company is also proposing to issue 40,540,541 Shares to the HHC Shareholders, 18,000,000 Shares to Medcan Management, 21,621,621 Shares to the T12 Shareholders, 5,405,405 Shares to T12 Management, up to 170,000,000 Shares (and 85,000,000 free attaching Options) to participants under the Capital Raising Offer and 2,857,143 Shares to the Lead Manager (assuming a maximum subscription raising).

With the Company expected to have approximately 3,333,717,728 Shares on issue at the time of its reinstatement to trading (based on a maximum subscription being achieved under the Capital Raising Offer), existing Shareholders are expected to be diluted by approximately 51.6% on completion of the Acquisitions and the Company's reinstatement to trading.

(d) ASX Suspension

The Company's Securities have been suspended from the Official List of ASX since 14 September 2018, being the date of the general meeting held by the Company in connection with the Acquisitions and proposed change to the nature and scale of the Company's activities. As such, there is no market for Shares and the Shares offered pursuant to this Prospectus are highly illiquid.

(e) Future Capital Requirements

The Company is likely to require additional funding in the future (whether by way of debt or equity or a combination of both). The ability of the Company to meet this future requirement will be dependent on the Company's continued access to credit markets, funding sources and financing facilities. Access to credit markets on less than favourable terms may impact the Company's access to financing facilities should the need arise and may have a material adverse effect on the Company's future financial performance and position.

Furthermore, any additional equity financing may be dilutive to the Company's existing Shareholders and any debt financing, if available, may involve restrictive covenants, which limit the Company's operations and business strategy. The Company's failure to raise capital if, and when, needed could delay or suspend the Company's business strategy and could have a material adverse effect on the Company's activities and its solvency.

(f) Integration Risk

Given that on completion of the Acquisitions, three independent businesses will be brought together to be members of the Company Group, a process will be implemented to align, expand and improve the financial reporting system for the Company Group. While this process takes place, historical deficiencies may be discovered which may have a material impact on the financial position of the Company.

11.2 Specific Risks to Medcan and MCL businesses

(a) Obtaining and retaining licences, permits and approvals

The Company's business model is reliant on obtaining any necessary additional licences, permits and approvals as outlined in the legal opinion on Medcan and MCL's business operations in Section 10 of this Prospectus and retaining (and in the future applying for renewal of) the necessary licences, permits and approvals issued by the ODC and other regulatory bodies to conduct its cannabis business operations (see Section 7.5).

The Company Group will apply for any necessary additional licences, permits and approvals, and undertake the necessary requirements for approval, however, there is no assurance that any such licences, permits or approvals will be granted to the Company Group, or on terms anticipated by the Company Group. A failure to obtain any such licences, permits or approvals will result in the Company Group being unable to continue to establish and/or further its cannabis related business operations.

The Company Group will also endeavour to comply with any approvals or conditions attaching to the relevant licences, permits and approvals, and undertake continued maintenance of such licences and permits. However, there is no guarantee that any licences, permits or approvals granted by the ODC or other regulatory bodies will not be revoked during their term, or that they will be renewed for a further period of time or renewed on terms anticipated by the Company Group. Should any of these circumstances eventuate, it is likely to have a material adverse effect on the Company's proposed activities and operations, as well as its financial performance and prospects.

(b) Establishment and implementation of new legislative regime

The Company operates (or intends to operate) in an industry which has recently experienced key regulatory and legislative changes.

The legislative amendments to key Australian legislation only came into effect fairly recently (for example, the legislative amendments to the ND Act only came into effect in Australia in October 2016).

The ODC has published regulations and a series of guidelines which explain how the reforms are to operate, and the application processes for licences and permits. Although this guidance is quite prescriptive, as with any new legislative regime, there remains some uncertainty as to the interpretation of the new laws and regulations and the review methodology that the ODC will adopt.

(c) Change to laws or regulations

The operations and proposed operations of the Company Group are subject to a variety of laws, regulations and guidelines. The industrial hemp and medicinal cannabis industries are evolving globally, including in Australia. It is likely that governments worldwide, including Australia, will continue to explore the benefits, risks and operations of companies involved in the hemp and medicinal cannabis sectors. In particular, the regulation of hemp and medicinal cannabis is a partisan and divisive issue and, as a result, a change in government or increase in political lobbying may result in a change in government policy and an amendment of legislation and/or regulation.

The introduction of new legislation or amendments to existing legislation by governments, or the respective interpretation of the legal requirements in any of the legal jurisdictions which govern the operations or contractual obligations of the Company Group, could impact adversely on the assets, operations and financial performance of QBL and the hemp and medicinal cannabis industry in general.

(d) Agricultural Factors

The businesses of Medcan and MCL are reliant on agricultural products. As such, the businesses of Medcan and MCL are subject to the risks inherent in the agricultural industry. These risks include insects, plant diseases, storm, fire, frost, flood, water availability, water salinity, pests, bird damage and force majeure events.

While the indoor production facility proposed by Medcan will seek to limit outside influences, there can be no assurance that natural elements will not have a material adverse effect on Medcan's growing operations and, consequently, result in delays to or adversely effect production. There are a number of risks which may still be associated with the construction and use of indoor areas to grow and cultivate cannabis, including the sourcing of suitable cannabis varieties either domestically or overseas, plant diseases, underestimating the costs and time for cultivation, underestimating the lighting and heating requirements and cost of installation, human error in the execution of engineering and construction, equipment failure, supplier delays and underestimating breakages and consumables. Each of these risks may be mitigated to some degree by proper management and external professional advice, however they may still impact grow time, the number of harvests or the oil yield generated from each harvest.

Any adverse outcomes in respect of these matters will or may adversely affect the Company's activities and operations, financial performance and prospects.

(e) Production risk

The ability of the Company to cultivate and produce products is dependent on a number of key inputs and their related costs. These key inputs include raw materials, electricity, water, other utilities and skilled labour. Any significant interruption or negative change in the availability or cost of these inputs could materially impact the production of the business and subsequently, the operating results of the Company Group.

In particular, given the nature of the raw materials used by MCL and Medcan, supply may be limited to a single or limited number of suppliers, with access to these raw materials more competitive than conventional ingredients. As a result, there is an enhanced risk of difficulties in securing the required supplies, or to do so on the appropriate terms.

(f) Product approval risk

There is a risk that the products produced and supplied by the Company Group are not approved for supply. This risk is particularly relevant for the Company Group, as it intends to operate in the highly regulated medicinal cannabis industry.

Medicinal cannabis products are regulated as medicines in Australia. Generally, medicines imported, supplied in, and exported from Australia must be entered in the Australian Register of Therapeutic Goods. However, there are mechanisms such as the Special Access Scheme and Authorised Prescriber Schemes which provide alternative pathways while evidence to support registration through clinical trials is obtained.

The Company intends to provide access to its products under the Authorised Prescriber Schemes. The Company cannot guarantee that any or all its medicinal cannabis products will be approved for supply to patients through Authorised Prescriber Schemes (or an alternative pathway). Additionally, there is no guarantee that medical practitioners will be authorised under the Authorised Prescriber Scheme, or that they will elect to prescribe the Company's products.

(g) Risk of adverse events, product liability or other safety issues

As with all medical or nutraceutical products, there is a risk that the products sold by the Company Group cause serious or unexpected side effects, including risk or injury to consumers. Should any of the Company Group's products be associated with safety risks such as misuse or abuse, inadvertent mislabelling, tampering by unauthorised third parties or product contamination or spoilage, a number of materially adverse outcomes could occur, including:

- (i) regulatory authorities may revoke any approvals that have been granted, impose more onerous facility standards or product labelling requirements or force the Company to conduct a product recall;
- (ii) the Company could be subject to regulatory action or be sued and held liable for any harm caused to customers; or
- (iii) the Company Group's brand and reputation could be damaged.

Additionally, material risks to the health and safety of customers may force the Company to voluntarily suspend or terminate sales and/or operations. The Company will endeavour to secure appropriate insurance coverage to mitigate these risks to the greatest extent possible. Additionally, the Company Group intends to maintain rigorous standards in respect of product safety. However, there is still the potential for the products to contain defects, which may result in systems failures. These defects or problems could result in the loss or delay in generating revenue, loss of market share, failure to achieve market acceptance, diversion of development resources, and damage to the Company's reputation or increased insurance costs.

The Company cannot guarantee that all such risks will be adequately managed through imposing standard or its insurance policies and may have an adverse impact on the Company's financial performance and prospects.

(h) Competition Risk

The industry in which the Company Group is involved is subject to domestic and international competition. While the Company Group will undertake all reasonable due diligence in its business decisions and operations, it will have no influence or control over the activities or actions of its competitors, which activities or actions may, positively or negatively, affect the operating and financial performance of the Company.

There are many new entrants and players in the hemp and medicinal cannabis sector, including other growers and multi-national pharmaceutical companies. Some of these parties may have greater financial, technological, managerial and research and development resources and experience than the Company, which may lead to reduced margins and loss of revenue or loss of market share. Further, revenues in the future may be reduced as the industry consolidates and seeks revenue accretion at the expense of profit margin. If the Company is unable to compete successfully, it may be unable to generate, grow and sustain its revenues and earnings.

(i) Strategic Relationship Risk

The medicinal cannabis and hemp food industry are undergoing rapid growth and change, which has resulted in increasing consolidation and formation of strategic relationships. It is expected that this consolidation and strategic partnering will continue as the industries continue to grow. Acquisitions or other consolidating transactions could harm the Company Group in a number of ways. The Company Group may lose strategic relationships if third parties with whom the Company Group has arrangements are acquired by or enter into relationships with a competitor (which could cause the company to lose access to necessary resources). The Company Group's current competitors could become stronger, or new competitors could form from consolidations. This could cause the Company Group too lose access to markets or expend greater resources in order to stay competitive.

Separately, the relationship between the Company Group and third parties may deteriorate organically, which may have an adverse impact on the Company's business.

(j) Key Supplier Risk

The MCL and Medcan have arrangements with a number of key suppliers. To the extent that the Company Group cannot secure and retain key suppliers, its respective abilities to maintain consistent production levels may be compromised, which in turn may have a material adverse impact on the financial performance and position of the Company Group.

(k) Reputational Risk

There is a risk that incidents beyond the control of the Company Group could occur which would have the effect of reducing patient, medical/scientific or regulatory confidence, or preferences for cannabis or medicinal cannabis products generally. This reputational risk could result from incidents involving members of the Company Group or other non-related industry participants.

This risk is particularly relevant given the Company Group will be operating in the regulated food industry where incidents could have impact consumer sales, or the medicinal industry where incidents could impact prescriptions by authorised medical professionals.

(l) Key Management Risk

The Company is highly dependent on its management and key personnel, who are responsible for its day-to-day operations and strategic management. If one or more of these personnel cease his/her involvement with the Company, it could have a materially detrimental impact on its future financial performance. The ability to attract and retain highly qualified staff is crucial to the future success of the Company. There can be no assurance that the Company will be able to so attract and retain such staff.

(m) Mainstream Acceptance of Cannabis

The success of the Australian cannabis industry will depend on the extent of political support for cannabis production as a medical remedy. Support from politicians and the Australian population has been positive over the last few years and while the company expects this momentum to continue, should sentiment turn the Company's operating environment could be at risk.

(n) Protection of Intellectual Property

The Company Group's success will depend on, in part, its ability to protect its intellectual property, including its trade marks, copyright, trade secrets and know-how. To the extent the Company fails to protect its intellectual property or infringes a third party's intellectual property, the Company may face increased competition from similar products, have to cease using certain intellectual property or be liable for damages. In the event that this occurs, there is a risk that it has a materially adverse impact on the Company Group's operations, financial performance and future prospects.

11.2.2 Specific Risks to Bauxite Projects

(a) Regulatory Risks

The Company's exploration and development activities are subject to extensive laws and regulations relating to numerous matters including resource licence consent, conditions including environmental compliance and rehabilitation, taxation, employee relations, health and worker safety, waste disposal, protection of the environment, native title and heritage matters, protection of endangered and protected species and other matters. The Company requires permits from regulatory authorities to authorise the Company's operations. These permits relate to exploration, development, production and rehabilitation activities.

Obtaining necessary permits can be a time-consuming process and there is a risk that Company will not obtain these permits on acceptable terms, in a timely manner or at all. The costs and delays associated with obtaining necessary permits and complying with these permits and applicable laws and regulations could materially delay or restrict the Company from proceeding with the development of a project or the operation or development of a mine. Any failure to comply with applicable laws and regulations or permits, even if inadvertent, could result in material fines, penalties or other liabilities. In extreme cases, failure could result in suspension of the Company's activities or forfeiture of one or more of the Tenements.

(b) Resource estimates

The Company currently has a JORC Indicated Resource at the South Johnstone Project. An indicated resource is an estimate only. An estimate is an expression of judgement based on knowledge, experience and industry practice. Estimates which were valid when originally calculated may alter significantly when new information or techniques become available. In addition, by their very nature, resource estimates are imprecise and depend to some extent on interpretations, which may prove to be inaccurate. As further information becomes available through additional fieldwork and analysis, the estimates are likely to change. This may result in alterations to development and mining plans which may, in turn, adversely affect the Company's operations.

(c) Operations

The operations of the Company may be affected by various factors, including failure to locate or identify mineral deposits, failure to achieve predicted grades in exploration and mining, operational and technical difficulties encountered in mining, difficulties in commissioning and operating plant and equipment, mechanical failure or plant breakdown, unanticipated metallurgical problems which may affect extraction costs, adverse weather conditions, industrial and environmental accidents, industrial disputes and unexpected shortages or increases in the costs of consumables, spare parts, plant and equipment.

No assurances can be given that the Company will achieve commercial viability through the successful exploration and/or mining of its tenement interests. Until the Company is able to realise value from its projects, it is likely to incur ongoing operating losses.

(d) Mine development

Possible future development of a mining operation at any of the Company's projects is dependent on a number of factors including, but not limited to, the acquisition and/or delineation of economically recoverable mineralisation, favourable geological conditions, receiving the necessary approvals from all relevant authorities and parties, seasonal weather patterns, unanticipated technical and operational difficulties encountered in extraction and production activities, mechanical failure of operating plant and equipment, shortages or increases in the price of consumables, spare parts and plant and equipment, cost overruns, access to the required level of funding and contracting risk from third parties providing essential services.

If the Company commences production, its operations may be disrupted by a variety of risks and hazards which are beyond its control, including environmental hazards, industrial accidents, technical failures, labour disputes, unusual or unexpected rock formations, flooding and extended interruptions due to inclement of hazardous weather conditions and fires, explosions or accidents. No assurance can be given that the Company will achieve commercial viability through the development or mining of its projects and treatment of ore.

(e) Equipment and availability

The Company's ability to undertake mining and exploration activities is dependent upon its ability to source and acquire appropriate mining equipment. Equipment is not always available and the market for mining equipment experiences fluctuations in supply and demand. If the Company is unable to source appropriate equipment economically or at all then this would have a material adverse effect on the Company's financial or trading position.

(f) Reliance on Key Personnel

The Company is substantially reliant on the expertise and abilities of its key personnel in overseeing the day-to-day operations of its projects. There can be no assurance given that there will be no detrimental impact on the Company if one or more of these employees or contractors cease their relationship with the Company.

(g) Environmental Health and Safety matters

The Company's proposed mining operations will be subject to extensive Australian health and safety and environmental laws and regulations which could impose significant costs and burdens on the Company (the extent of which cannot be predicted). These laws and regulations provide for penalties and other liabilities for violation of such standards and if established, in certain circumstances, obligations to rehabilitate current and former facilities and locations where operations are or were conducted. Permission to operate could be withdrawn temporarily where there is evidence of serious breaches of health and safety and environmental laws and regulations and even permanently in the case of extreme breaches.

(h) Contractual / off-take

The success of the commercialisation of the Company's Bauxite Project depends in part on the ability of the Company to secure the necessary contractual commitments in relation to off take and related matters. Though the Company has been engaging in discussions with third parties in this regard, there remains a risk that the Company may not be able to secure such contractual arrangements on favourable terms or at all.

(i) Commodity price volatility and exchange rate

If the Company successfully defines a resource or reserve and subsequently achieves success leading to mineral production, the revenue it will derive through the sale of commodities exposes the potential income of the Company to commodity price and exchange rate risks. Commodity prices fluctuate and are affected by many factors beyond the control of the Company. Such factors include supply and demand fluctuations for precious and base metals, technological advancements, forward selling activities and other macro-economic factors.

Furthermore, international prices of various commodities are denominated in United States dollars, whereas the income and expenditure of the Company are and will be taken into account in Australian currency, exposing the Company to the fluctuations and volatility of the rate of exchange between the United States dollar and the Australian dollar as determined in international markets.

11.2.3 General Risks

(a) Regulatory

The Company is based in Australia and is subject to Australian laws and regulations. For example, the Company is required to comply with the Corporations Act. Changes in relevant taxes, legal and administration regimes, accounting practice and government policies in the countries in which the Company operates, and may operate, may adversely affect the financial performance of the Company.

(b) Government Licences and Approvals

Failure to comply strictly with applicable laws, regulations and local practices could result in loss, reduction or expropriation of entitlements, or the imposition of additional local or foreign parties as joint venture partners with carried or other interests. The occurrence of these various factors and uncertainties cannot be accurately predicted and could have an adverse effect on the operations or profitability of the Company.

(c) General Economic and Political Risks

Changes may occur in the general economic and political climate in the jurisdictions in which the Company operates and on a global basis that could have an impact on economic growth, interest rates, the rate of inflation, taxation, tariff laws and domestic security which may affect the value and viability of any activity that may be conducted by the Company.

(d) Economic Risks

General economic conditions, movements in interest and inflation rates and currency exchange rates may have an adverse effect on the Company's activities, as well as on its ability to fund those activities.

(e) Market Conditions

Share market conditions may affect the value of the Company's quoted securities regardless of the Company's operating performance. Share market conditions are affected by many factors such as:

- (i) general economic outlook;
- (ii) interest rates and inflation rates;

- (iii) currency fluctuations;
- (iv) changes in investor sentiment toward particular market sectors;
- (v) the demand for, and supply of, capital; and
- (vi) terrorism or other hostilities.

The market price of securities can fall as well as rise and may be subject to varied and unpredictable influences on the market for equities in general and energy stocks in particular. Neither the Company nor the Directors warrant the future performance of the Company or any return on an investment in the Company.

(f) Share Market Risk

The market price of the Company's Shares could fluctuate significantly. The market price of the Company's Shares may fluctuate based on a number of factors including:

- (i) the Company's operating performance and the performance of competitors and other similar companies;
- (ii) the public's reaction to the Company's press releases;
- (iii) other public announcements and the Company's filings with securities regulatory authorities;
- (iv) changes in earnings estimates or recommendations by research analysts who track the Company's Shares or the shares of other companies in the sector;
- (v) changes in general economic conditions;
- (vi) the number of the Company's Shares publicly traded and the arrival or departure of key personnel; and
- (vii) acquisitions, strategic alliances or joint ventures involving the Company or its competitors.

In addition, the market price of the Company's Shares is affected by many variables not directly related to the Company's success and are therefore not within the Company's control, including other developments that affect the market for all shares in the Company's market sector, the breadth of the public market for the Company's Shares, and the attractiveness of alternative investments.

(g) Potential Acquisitions

As part of its business strategy, the Company may make acquisitions of, or significant investments in, complementary companies or prospects and additional assets. Any such acquisitions will be accompanied by risks commonly encountered and listed in this section.

(h) Claims, Liability and Litigation

The risk of litigation is a general risk of the Company's business. There is always the risk that litigation may occur as a result of differing interpretations of obligations or outcomes.

(i) Force Majeure

The Company's operations now or in the future may be adversely affected by risks outside the control of the Company including labour unrest, civil disorder, war, subversive activities or sabotage, fires, floods, explosions or other catastrophes, epidemics or quarantine restrictions

(j) Insurance risks

The Company intends to insure its operations in accordance with industry practice. However, in certain circumstances, the Company's insurance may not be of a nature or level to provide adequate insurance cover. The occurrence of an event that is not covered or fully covered by insurance could have a material adverse effect on the business, financial condition and results of the Company.

(k) Joint venture, acquisitions or other strategic investments

The Company may make strategic investments in complementary businesses, or enter into strategic partnerships or alliances with third parties in order to enhance its business. At the date of this Prospectus, the Company is not aware of the occurrence or likely occurrence of any such risks which would have a material adverse effect on the Company or its subsidiaries.

(l) Litigation Risks

The Company is exposed to possible litigation risks including native title claims, tenure disputes, environmental claims, occupational health and safety claims and employee claims. Further, the Company may be involved in disputes with other parties in the future which may result in litigation. Any such claim or dispute if proven, may impact adversely on the Company's operations, financial performance and financial position. The Company is not currently engaged in any litigation.

(m) Management of growth

There is a risk that management of the Company will not be able to implement the Company's growth strategy after completion of the Offer. The capacity of the Company's management to properly implement and manage the strategic direction of the Group may affect the Company's financial performance.

Investment Speculative

The above list of risk factors ought not to be taken as exhaustive of the risks faced by the Company or by investors in the Company. The above factors, and others not specifically referred to above may, in the future, materially affect the financial performance of the Company and the value of the Company's Securities.

14.8 TRDF Agreement

On 16 February 2018 Medical Cannabis Research Group Pty Ltd (MCRG), a subsidiary of MCL, entered into a sponsored research agreement with The Technion Research & Development Foundation Ltd (TRDF) in relation to the performance of research relating to cannabis as a potential therapy for multiple sclerosis (MS) (Research) by Professor David (Dedi) Meiri from the Faculty of Biology at the Technion Israel Institute of Technology.

TRDF has undertaken to undertake the Research in accordance with common scientific standards and on a best efforts basis. A final report will be submitted to MCRG upon completion of the Research.

The performance of the Research commenced on 1 February 2018 and must be complete by 1 February 2022.

In consideration for the performance of the Research MCRG will pay TRDF a total of US$2,870,000 over a four-year period commencing on the date the agreement was signed and upon certain milestones occurring, which includes TRDF overheads.

14.9 L1 Agreement

MCL entered into a convertible securities agreement with L1 Capital Global Opportunities Master Fund (L1) in or around November 2017 (as varied) (L1 Agreement), pursuant to which L1 was issued 300,000 tranche 1 and 300,000 tranche 2 convertible notes in MCL. The convertible notes each have a face value of $1.05 each (with an aggregate face value of $630,000).

MCL also agreed to issue 5,850,000 MCL options to L1, with the number of options determined by dividing 65% of the purchase price of the tranche 2 convertible notes (being $315,000) by the lowest price at which Shares are offered under this Prospectus (being $0.035), rounded up to the nearest whole number.

The Company agreed to guarantee the obligations of MCL under the L1 Agreement and entered into a deed of guarantee and indemnity with L1 to formalise these arrangements at or around the time the L1 Agreement was executed.

The L1 Agreement was executed at the time when the Company was expecting to float MCL (rather than merge MCL into the Company as a wholly owned subsidiary). It was therefore agreed that it would be an event of default under the L1 Agreement if an initial public offering (IPO) of MCL shares had not occurred by 31 May 2018.

The IPO of MCL shares did not occur by 31 May 2018 (or at all) and as such the parties to the L1 Agreement (and QBL as guarantor) have since agreed to vary the terms of the L1 Agreement, and on 22 August 2018 entered into a variation under which:

- (a) an additional 500,000 tranche 1 convertible notes in MCL were issued to L1 with a face value of $1 each (being $500,000 in aggregate);
- (b) an additional 4,642,858 options in MCL were issued to L1, with the number of additional options determined by dividing 32.5% of the purchase price of the additional tranche 1 convertible notes (being $500,000) by the lowest price at which Shares are offered under this Prospectus (being $0.035), rounded up to the nearest whole number; and
- (c) subject to and conditional upon QBL acquiring all necessary Shareholder approval for all relevant purposes:
 - (i) QBL has agreed to redeem all outstanding convertible notes by issuing a total of 1,100,000 Convertible Notes, comprising:
 - (A) 600,000 Convertible Notes (each with a face value of $1.05 and an aggregate face value of $630,000) (Tranche 1 Convertible Note); and
 - (B) 500,000 Convertible Notes (each with a face value of $1.00 and an aggregate value of $500,000) (Tranche 2 Convertible Note), with L1 able to convert any of the Convertible Notes into Shares at any time by giving notice in writing to QBL (Conversion Notice).

The total Shares into which the Convertible Notes will convert will be determined by dividing the amount outstanding on the note by the conversion price. The conversion price for the Convertible Notes will be either (at the discretion of L1), $0.035 or 85% of the 5-day VWAP over the 5 trading days immediately prior to the date of the Conversion Notice.

The maturity date for each Convertible Note is 15 June 2019; and

- (ii) the parties have agreed that the MCL options granted to L1 will be cancelled in consideration for QBL granting to L1 the equivalent number of QBL Options (being 10,492,858 Options in total) under the L1 Offer.

L1 has agreed to waive all interest accruing under the L1 Agreement until the occurrence of an event of default (which was not subsisting as at 22 August 2018). The interest will be reinstated in the event a new event of default occurs.

15. ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

15.1 Litigation

Other than as specified below, neither the Company nor any of its respective subsidiaries (including MCL and Medcan or their subsidiaries) are involved in any legal proceedings and the Directors are not aware of any legal proceedings pending or threatened against the Company, MCL or Medcan or any of their respective subsidiaries.

Objection to use of name "Cann Global Limited"

The Company has received correspondence from Cann Group Limited, who, due to the present and intended business activities of QBL in connection with the cultivation, production and supply of medicinal cannabis in Australia and the export of medicinal cannabis from Australia to international markets and related services, has objected to the Company's proposed use of the name Cann Global Limited.

Cann Group Limited have written to the Company that they consider the proposed use of the name Cann Global Limited has potential to:

- (a) constitute engaging in misleading and deceptive conduct in contravention of section 18 of Australian Consumer Law; and
- (b) contravene the law of "passing off", and have demanded that QBL immediately and permanently refrain from adopting and using the name Cann Global Limited or using "Cann" in any way or in combination with any other name. Cann Group Limited also requested that QBL withdraw the resolution seeking shareholder approval for the proposed change to its name at the general meeting held on 14 September 2018 (which it did not do).

The Company had chosen the name Cann Global because the Board considered that this name most accurately reflects the Company's current business focus.

As at the date of this Prospectus, the Company does not presently consider the objection to carry enough merit to warrant any change to its existing plan to change its name, although the Company reserves its rights to reconsider this issue.

Dispute re conversion of Performance Shares

The Company is currently involved in a dispute in relation to the conversion of Performance Shares, which were issued in part consideration for the acquisition of the Company's existing 55% interest in MCL.

As detailed in Section 15.5, a Performance Share will convert into one Share upon achievement of the Australian Government granting a permit to MCL to grow cannabis varieties for medical cannabis research for the purposes of product development between the date of issue of the Performance Shares and 5 years after that date (Milestone).

The holders of the Performance Shares consider the acquisition of Medcan, who holds an existing ODC Cultivation and Production Licence, constitutes satisfaction of the Milestone. This has been disputed by QBL on the basis that the Milestone requires the grant of a permit to MCL, and the relevant licence is currently held by Medcan.

As at the date of this Prospectus, the Company continues to dispute that any applicable Milestone has been or will be achieved as a result of the Medcan Acquisition.

15.2 Rights and liabilities attaching to Shares

The following is a summary of the more significant rights and liabilities attaching to Shares being offered pursuant to this Prospectus. This summary is not exhaustive and does not constitute a definitive statement of the rights and liabilities of Shareholders. To obtain such a statement, persons should seek independent legal advice.

The issue of any new Shares is under the control of the Board of the Company as appointed from time to time. Subject to restrictions on the issue or grant of Securities contained in the ASX Listing Rules, the Constitution and the Corporations Act (and without affecting any special right previously conferred on the holder of an existing Share or class of shares), the Directors may issue Shares and other Securities as they shall, in their absolute discretion, determine.

(h) Variation of rights

Under Section 246B of the Corporations Act, the Company may, with the sanction of a special resolution passed at a meeting of Shareholders vary or abrogate the rights attaching to Shares.

If at any time the share capital is divided into different classes of shares, the rights attached to any class (unless otherwise provided by the terms of issue of the shares of that class) may be varied or abrogated with the consent in writing of the holders of three quarters of the issued shares of that class, or if authorised by a special resolution passed at a separate meeting of the holders of the shares of that class.

(i) Alteration of Constitution

In accordance with the Corporations Act, the Constitution can only be amended by a special resolution passed by at least three quarters of votes validly cast for Shares at the general meeting. In addition, at least 28 days written notice specifying the intention to propose the resolution as a special resolution must be given.
