

ASX: CXO ANNOUNCEMENT

19 November 2018

Vale Erik Palmbachs

Emerging Australian lithium developer, Core Lithium Ltd (ASX: CXO) (“Core” or the “Company”), is deeply saddened to advise shareholders of the sudden passing of our Chief Financial Officer, Erik Palmbachs, who died last week following a cardiac arrest.

Although a recent addition to the Core family, he had an immediate and positive impact on the Company and team as it progresses plans to bring the Finniss Lithium Project in the NT into production in 2019.

As Chief Financial Officer, and with over twenty years’ experience in the resources sector, Erik gave highly valued, professional and erudite advice to the board and management during this important time in the Company’s transition.

On behalf of the Company and our shareholders, we express deepest sympathy to Erik’s family. His positivity and friendly demeanour will be greatly missed.

Please respect the Palmbachs family’s privacy at this difficult time.
